With New Attorneys Continues Struggle to Elude Stripes and Bars

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3. — Superior Judge Lawlor issued an order at noon today commanding Abraham Ruef to appear before him at 2 o'clock this afternoon for examination in regard to the current report that he intended to appeal to the United States courts for relief from the execution of his sentence.

The order was issued on the ground that at the time Ruef was granted a stay of seven days by Judge Lawlor to enable him to settle up his business before going to San Quentin, it was expressly stipulated and agreed to by his attorneys that he would not make

Looking excited and ill at ease, Abraham Ruef arrived in Judge Lawlor's court at 1:55 o'clock this afternoon accompanied by a deputy sheriff, having ridden in on the car from the county jail. Attorneys Keane, Cross, and Fluke were already in attendance and District Attorney Fickert and Assistant District Attorney Berry appeared for the prosecution.

Superior Judge Lawlor at 2:10 this afternoon allowed the stay of execution to remain in operation until Tuesday, provided that the former boss give the district attorney five hours' notice of any intention to avail himself of constitutional rights which he may believe have been jeopardized.

It was nearly 2:30 before the court session opened. Judge Lawlor stated plainly, after a reading of a transcript of Wednesday's proceedings, that Attorneys Ach and Dozier had stipulated that Ruef would be ready on Tuesday to submit himself to the processes of the court, and wanted to know if the order would be carried out in the terms of that agreement.

AGREEMENT TO STAND.

Attorney C. W. Cross announced that as far as he knew no steps would be taken which would conflict in any way with the agreement as made out by the order for the stay.

Ruef, himself, on being asked by the court as to whether he intended to submit to its processes on Tuesday and go over to San Quentin, at first remained silent. Later he stated plainly that Ach had acted without authority when he made the promise that Ruef would do nothing but attend to his personal affairs if granted the extension.

"If your honor please, I did not know that Mr. Ach had made such a statement, and I would not have authorized it had I known it. I intended to avail myself of every right which I possibly had in order to gain my freedom."

"The court granted the order because

Extra Session Certain if Treaty Is Not Acted On

WASHINGTON, March 3. — From administration circles comes the unequivocal statement that an extra session of Congress is inevitable unless the Senate before noon tomorrow adopts the pending bill providing for reciprocity with Canada. DECISION UPON WHICH RUEF IS BASING A HOPE

The following quotation from a decision in 108 Cal. 478, Fox vs. Hale and Norcross Silver Mining Company, Ruef bases his last hope to escape the penitentiary:

"The authority of a court to order its judgment to be entered nunc pro tunc (now for then) is inherent in the court and is to be exercised for the purpose of doing justice between the parties and will always be exercised when it is apparent that the delay in rendering the judgment and failure to enter it after its rendition is the result of some act or delay of the court and is not owing to any default of the party making the application."

SCORE KILLED IN FOOD RIOT

Starving Chinese Are Trampled to Death at Sha Yang.

HANKOW, China, March 3. — Twenty-one persons were trampled to death at Sha Yang, Hubei province today, when a horde of starving Chinese fought for the food which missionaries were attempting to distribute. Many others were injured.

The work of relief is attended with some peril to those who have taken supplies into the famine districts, as the natives in many instances are mad from deprivation.

Today a considerable amount of food-stuff was received by the missionaries, who immediately placed it in systematic distribution. Their work was hardly begun when thousands of desperate men, women and children when they learned there was a chance of their hunger being half satisfied swooped down on the supply depot.

An uncontrollable riot followed. Each fought for himself and the weaker went down and were ruthlessly trampled. The fighting continued as long as there appeared to be anything to fight for. The missionaries were helpless.

Eleven days after Congress adjourns tomorrow it probably will be called together in extra session. Practically all hope has been abandoned by the executive of getting reciprocity through before Congress adjourns.

The fight will be transferred from the committee to the floor.

Senator Hewitt of Los Angeles, who is also the author of a consolidation measure, will submit an amendment to the Wolfe bill providing for the government of parts of counties remaining in the event of the consolidation of towns affected by the Wolfe amendment.

Senator Stetson of Oakland will also submit an amendment requiring all the cities and towns of a county to agree to join in the consolidation before the same can be effected.

SACRAMENTO, March 3. — The Assembly by a vote of 39 to 36, refused today to concur in the senate amendment to the Wythe local option bill, substituting a township unit for the county as provided in the original bill.

The final vote was announced after nearly an hour had been consumed in a call of the house, in which the proponents of the amendments sought to stay further proceedings, and keep the members confined behind locked doors until the return from San Francisco of five absent members, three of whom voted for the amendment when it was refused passage February 2.

KANSAS CITY, March 3. — A funeral in sign language was held here this afternoon when the Rev. J. H. Cloud, a deaf mute minister from St. Louis, preached the service over the body of Charles L. Minge, a deaf mute who died Sunday. Mr. Minge, who is also unable to hear or talk, made the arrangements for the benefit of a large number of friends who are similarly affected. As the Rev. Mr. Cloud went through the service it was translated and repeated to those who could hear by the Rev. C. C. McGinley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here.

RICH MEN TO BUILD ON HILLS

John H. Spring's $200,000 Marble Palace to Be Center of Costly Homes.

Oil Magnates From Bakersfield District to Have Suburban Residences.

BERKELEY, March 3. — Construction of a $200,000 white marble mansion in the North Berkeley hills by Capitalist John H. Spring of Oakland, and the location of a colony of California oil magnates in the same vicinity, where they will erect magnificent homes overlooking the bay, will be features of the most remarkable and expensive building movement Berkeley has ever known.

The oil men from the Bakersfield districts, who have their eyes on Berkeley as a choice spot in which to live and enjoy their quickly-gained wealth have made their plans to build during the coming summer. They have already purchased slightly lots on the heights, commanding views of surpassing beauty.

COSTLIEST OF HOMES.

But excelling all the men of the oil fields in the size and cost of his future home, John H. Spring, who now resides at 2711 Fruitvale avenue, Oakland, on a large estate, will erect, according to his present plans, a palace of marble, with material from his own quarries.

The work of landscaping the estate which it is to occupy is already in progress.

The residence will be built on Arlington avenue. In the grounds there are being planted the rarest of shade trees, including crimson hawthorn and other varieties. Thousands of rare plants from Japan, Holland and other countries have been planted. The exact time for beginning work on the Spring mansion has not been determined, but it will probably start during the year.

MAY CUT UP GROUNDS.

Spring declared today that the work would not depend upon the outcome of the negotiations of the city of Oakland to acquire his residence grounds on Fruitvale avenue for park purposes.

"If the city does not buy, I shall cut up the tract into building lots," said the capitalist.

"The material to be used in the new Berkeley residence will probably be white marble, although the plans may be changed."

It is expected that the dwelling will eclipse in size and splendor the Taylor mansion, and other homes in the Claremont section.

$30,000 HOME.

One of the most expensive of proposed oil magnates' homes is to be that of L. A. Crandall, of Taft, California. It will cost $30,000 and will be built of concrete.

The other residences, none of which will cost less than $10,000, will be built by George W. Derby of Bakersfield, Robert W. Skinner, Charles Dickinson and John Patterson, of Maricopa, all engaged in the oil industry.

H. J. Leonard, a banker of Seattle, Mrs. A. Sellers, of Los Angeles and Attorney Frank H. Wehe of Berkeley will also build in the North Berkeley hill region.

Merchants Have Artistic Show Windows and Displays, but Weather Is Unfavorable

It is rumored today that the gorgeous display of frills and fancies that has kept busy the window decorators of all of Oakland's leading milliners, outfitters and department stores may be continued. The inclemency of the weather forbidding the attendance of thousands of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley shoppers makes it almost imperative that next Monday and Tuesday be observed as "FASHION SHOW DAY." The enterprise and originality of local merchants is deserving of a vastly greater attendance than that to date.

Jupiter Pluvius is accountable for the keen disappointment that the ladies of Oakland and vicinity have experienced in not being able to get out of doors. Thousands of dollars of decorative materials and hours of valuable time have been consumed by the wide-awake merchants to make this, the initial Fashion Show, a grand success.

THE TRIBUNE is unable at the time of press to make authoritative announcements as to the continuation of the Fashion Show. A committee of the merchants assuming the aggressiveness in the matter has under advisement this matter. The show was originally scheduled for today and tomorrow only, but weather makes continuation advisable.

WASHINGTON, March 3. — The last probability that Robert E. WHAT JUDGE LOVETT SAID

No interest will be more benefited by the upbuilding of Oakland than ours.

We want to continue to add our own and the city's development and do all we can with the means at our disposal.

I expect much in the future of the coast region and cities.

The Panama canal will not injure the railroad; it will help it, as it will help the country through which the road passes.

Oakland is not understood and appreciated in the east as much as it should be.

I soon became convinced that Oakland was entirely worthy of the expenditure we proposed to make, after I had seen the city.

All we ask is fair treatment and I believe we will get it.

Judge Robert S. Lovett, president of the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific Railroads, was present at an informal meeting at the Chamber of Commerce this morning, at which the directors of the chamber and a number of prominent business men of the city were invited.

Short speeches were made by H. C. Capwell, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Frank K. Mott, Judge Lovett and Harmon Bell. The members of the party accompanying Judge Lovett were E. E. Calvin, vice-president of the road; Charles Fee, Judge H. Kruttschnitt of the department of maintenance and operation, and R. Spence, assistant traffic manager.

Judge Lovett and his party were welcomed by President Capwell and Secretary Denison, and were shown about the Chamber of Commerce by President Capwell.

NEW THEATER FINANCIAL FAILURE

New York Playhouse Is No Longer the Scenic of Altruistic Drama.

Enormous Expense Entailed in Staging Productions Too Heavy a Drain.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The New Theater, founded by wealthy New Yorkers for the artistic production of the best drama, has proved so heavy a drain on the resources of its backers that the enterprise is to be partially abandoned, according to an announcement here. The net losses during the two seasons since it was opened have totaled more than $400,000. The building in which the institution is housed will be used for other purposes during the years to come. Like Carnegie Hall, it will be let out to whomsoever wishes to use it.

The size of the theater has operated against its success from the first. It has been almost impossible to fill so large a house and the running expenses have been enormous. There is no disposition on the part of the directors, it is said, to complain of the way the house has been run, nor did they expect the theater to make money. On the contrary it was intended as a theater where plays could be presented which would not make money elsewhere. But the backers think that a theater devoted to altruistic purposes should be maintained at less loss.

The company of players organized by the directors will continue to be maintained, appearing under the same auspices in some smaller playhouses and possibly going on tour. Some of the successful plays which have been presented will be leased on a royalty basis.

Eventually it is likely that a smaller theater will be built and the enterprise continued but on somewhat more restricted lines.

Washington Dodge's Auto Runs Down and Kills Deputy in Assessor's Office.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—After being run down by an automobile in which Assessor Washington Dodge was riding, E. P. Mr. Dodge was on his way to a theater last night when his auto ran Casserly down at McAllister street and Van Ness avenue. The efforts of his chauffeur, Carl Shaw, to stop the machine were unavailing by reason of the slippery pavements. At the Central Emergency hospital it developed that Casserly had suffered a fractured skull.

PRESIDENT OF THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC ROAD IS VISITOR HERE

that we not only need railroads but great railroads, and their hearty, interested and favorable co-operation; and the thinking, far-seeing men in our midst appreciate the necessity and wisdom of fair treatment of them.

"Since your road, the first to come here, began operations both Oakland and the road have prospered beyond the hope of men of that day. Each contributed to the growth of the other and as each has become stronger and greater, so the ability of each to assist the other is greater today than ever before. We therefore ask and expect much from you gentlemen and your railroad, and Oakland will return in kind.

"We want your interests to grow and prosper to such an extent that you will not simply come on an occasional visit, but will remain with us long enough to feel that you are a part of us and at home with us.

CALLS ON MAYOR.

"I am going to ask the mayor of our city, Mr. Mott, to say something on this occasion."

After a few introductory remarks of welcome to the railroad officials on behalf of the citizens of Oakland the mayor said:

"The growth of Oakland and the Southern Pacific system on the Pacific coast may be said to have been coincident and since early days the two have gone hand in hand. We are more than glad to have among us today men who represent the present prosperity of our state to such a degree. Every effort is now being made to make Oakland a greater city than ever before along commercial lines. By a freak of nature there are no natural deep water facilities on the continental side of the bay section where Oakland commenced its career of commercial greatness. Therefore the Argonauts in the early days sought the natural facilities offered them on the peninsular side of the bay, where they could find safe anchorage. But now by the efforts of the citizens of Oakland this natural defect is being swept away and before long we will have unmatched shipping facilities in offer to the commerce of the world."

IMPROVEMENT COMMENCED.

"Already great sums have been raised to accomplish this end and before long we will have deep water right at our doors. The federal government has been very liberal in its appropriations and the city has under way vast improvements along our western waterfront. I think I am not overestimating the prospects of the future when I say that this will be the great commercial and manufacturing center of the west in years to come. A long step in that direction has already been taken in the tremendous electrical plants we have in our midst which are capable of almost unlimited development from the inland water supply which is easily brought into Oakland. Another source of untold possibilities in the expansion of Oakland is the oil industry which will furnish power for unlimited manufacturing plants in the near future."

RAILROAD TO SHARE.

"In these fair prospects the great railroad system, which is represented here today by our guests, will share—the prosperity of the Southern Pacific railroad and Oakland being one. With the completion of the Panama canal this bay section will be the theater of the far eastern and world commerce. Oakland is fully alive to that and is preparing to benefit thereby and get her share of the tremendous commercial activities soon to come. The recent understanding relative to traffic facilities along the western water front between the city and the Southern Pacific railroad will be of mutual benefit to both parties concerned."

"We fully appreciate, Judge Lovett, the activity now going on for the electrifying of the suburban lines in this section which will give us an up-to-date and modern system, and while we have suffered in the past from the insignificance of the Sixteenth-street depot we realize that it will before long be a thing of the past and that a depot commensurate with the greatness of the city will greet incoming travelers. We want you to remember that there are 200,000 who will be benefited by the new station."

At the close of Mayor Mott's speech President Capwell asked Judge Lovett to say whatever he would like before the gathering. Judge Lovett said:

APPRECIATES SPIRIT.

"Mr. President and Gentlemen: I wisely say that I appreciate the spirit of the remarks which have been made here, and echo the feelings expressed in them. Although I may not be known by you, we have not been indifferent to the importance of Oakland as a city. As you all know, we have large interests here, and I hope you remember that no single interest in the city is larger than ours."

"In consequence of that fact, no interest will be more benefited by the upbuilding of the city than ours. We share in the development of the city and also help to make that development possible and to build it up. We have given evidence of our faith in this city by large appropriations for the electrification of roads and other improvements, and we want to continue to aid our own and the city's development and do all we can with the means at our command to aid it. I think I am justified in expecting much in the future of the coast region and cities. The opening of the Panama-Pacific canal will be a great step in the development of the western coast cities. Many think that the opening of the Panama canal will injure the Southern Pacific, but it is a truth that the country through which the railroad passes cannot benefit without the railroad benefiting too. When the cost feels the influence of the increased commerce the Southern Pacific will feel it too. We expect to join in the benefit to the country as a whole."

LOOKED BIG TO HIM.

"They were large, three or four hundred thousand, and in my opinion they seemed too much for a city which, as I thought, did very little local business, but Mr. Capwell convinced me that I was wrong. When I visited the city some time ago they took me about and showed me what Oakland was and how large it was, and I became convinced that Oakland was entirely worthy of the expenditure we proposed to make."

"As for the future of the commerce of the city, I don't know what we can do, but whatever we find possible to do we will do."

"All we ask is fair treatment and I believe we will get it. I am only a trustee, spending other people's money. It takes an enormous amount to run a railroad, and the money must be carefully spent. Just to show you how much it requires, I will tell you that in the last nine years $221,000,000 have been put into the Southern Pacific and much of that money must be used for the growth and upbuilding of the road."

"I realize that for years money must continue to be spent to secure development in the west, and therefore much will be required from the investors. Money must be fairly treated and protected if it is to be secured."

"I believe that the country will show a great development in the future and that we will share in that development. I thank you, gentlemen, for this opportunity of meeting and addressing you."

CAPWELL COMMENTS.

Following Judge Lovett's speech H. C. Capwell briefly commented on his remarks, saying:

"Judge Lovett has told us just what we knew in regard to the impression abroad to the effect that Oakland is only a suburb of San Francisco. But the world is learning different. We can always expect a fair deal at the hands of the Southern Pacific. It is merely a question of mutual understanding. I will now call upon Mr. Harmon Bell for a few words."

Harmon Bell said:

"There is nothing more to say in the way of a welcome to the visitors. We welcome them with all our hearts. We like the general tone of the openness which Judge Lovett has shown in discussing local problems as reported in the newspapers. The men with us today represent the new era in the railroad world which is marked by a faith in the people and in their interests."

Among those present at the informal gathering at the chamber of commerce besides the Southern Pacific officials and speakers were:

Frank Leach Jr., P. C. Fredericksen, Robert W. Martland, Joseph Baker, E. A. Heron, Stuart A. Booth, W. P. Gibson, Henry Abrahamson, J. V. Delestone, F. J. Early, Frank Leach Sr., G. R. Daniels, L. Richardson, E. A. Young, Wilbur Walker, E. B. Bull, J. W. Garthwaite, J. P. Edoff, J. C. Arnold and Victor Metcalf.

After leaving the Chamber of Commerce Judge Lovett and his party made an inspection of the narrow gauge depot and surroundings, then went to the West Oakland yards where considerable time was spent in looking over the situation. Later the site of the new Sixteenth street depot was visited.

RUEF WILL FIGHT TO THE LAST DITCH

Attorneys Will Make Last Appeal to Supreme Court of California.

of the situation of the defendant," declared Lawlor.

Ruef declared that as near as he knew at the present time he would be ready to submit to Tuesday's commitment, and Judge Lawlor then said:

"I will grant no further extension of time, and I will not make any other order at this time, provided that the defendant's counsel will agree to submit a five-hour's notice to the district attorney of any action they might contemplate."

A attorney Cross agreed to the suggestion.

Ruef was more nervous than at any time since his first arrest. Rabbi Levy, a close friend of the defendant, was in attendance.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Abraham Ruef will fight to the last ditch. With new attorneys and his own brain as the basis for his actions, an appeal for a rehearing is to be made for the second time this afternoon before the State Supreme Court. The battle is on in earnest and with Attorney Albert Finkle, a well-known federal lawyer, co-operating with Senator George B. Keane, a personal friend and associate counsel of Ruef, the war is to be waged until the last minute of the seven days' stay granted by Superior Judge Lawlor has expired.

A nunc pro tunc proceeding, which in the language of the layman is the filing of an application now as though it had been done weeks ago, is to be instituted today on the authority of a decision of 108 Cal. 478 Fox vs. Hale & Norcross Silver Mining Company. By this decision it is held that Ruef, through no fault of his own, has been deprived of his rights, and it was not his lack of diligence or that of his counsel that prevented a rehearing, but merely a mistake made by the court of last resort which, without his being able in any manner to help it, has weighed heavily against him.

HINGES ON HENSHAW.

On the ground that had not Justice Henshaw been absent from the state—which was not Ruef's fault—he would have been granted a rehearing, today's second request for a rehearing is being asked. It may be that the Supreme Court will order that the application be made to the District Court of Appeal, or, as is more likely, it may be refused. In that instance counsel believe that they have grounds for an appeal to the United States Circuit Court on a writ of error.

There is another side to the war which is now being waged by San Francisco's former political boss. When Judge Lawlor granted him the stay of seven days it was expressly understood that he would submit himself finally to the law and take his medicine. Attorneys Ach and Decker practically promised that in open court, at least, they would not make a show of force. THE TRIBUNE, however, has stated that as far as they are concerned, the battle is over. Ruef, however, himself a lawyer of resource, has refused to abide by their advice, and although they are still members of his counsel, they are not included with the attorneys who are now endeavoring to snatch him, as it were, from the jaws of prison, which are open and eager to receive him.

KEANE ADVISED MOVE.

On the advice of Attorney Keane, and after a session which kept Ruef up until 3 o'clock this morning, today's appeal to the Supreme Court of the State was decided. Attorney Albert Finkle, whose experience in federal matters has been wide, and whose connections in Washington cannot but be valuable to Ruef, was retained yesterday, and all this morning was at work on the necessary papers.

Ruef himself came to be interviewed at 9 a. m., rubbing his eyes and showing evidence of the strain under which he labors.

"You can't guess what time I turned in," was the salutation with which he greeted THE TRIBUNE representative. There was a little grain of confidence in his talk, however, which was not there yesterday.

"I have nothing to say," was his stereotyped answer to the first question. "You'll have to see my attorneys."

"Who are your attorneys, Mr. Ruef?" Mr. Ach and Mr. Decker have stated that they are not taking any more steps."

"You had better see George Keane," rejoined Ruef.

Ruef was jovial and walked away jauntily as he left to return to the portion of the jail in which he is confined. He would add nothing further to his statement, but Attorney George Keane, when seen later, was a willing spokesman.

OUTLINES ACTION.

"We will go to the State Supreme Court today, but it may be late this afternoon," stated the lawyer. "We believe that a delay on the part of the court which is prejudicial to the rights of the litigant and that fault should not go against him. We are going to bring nunc pro tunc proceedings, and in the event that we are refused a rehearing we will apply to the federal court for a writ of error. By a decision in the 108 California the court has inherent power and absolute control over its own orders, and we believe that a litigant should not suffer through any internal error of the court for which he cannot in any manner be held responsible."

"Attorney Albert Finkle is associated with me in arranging the appeal."

The Cycling Brunettes at the Bell fight the laws of gravity with the rule of momentum and the result is a bicycle act that gives the sharps in physics something to ponder. As a straight "bike" performance their offering is all class and it is to be said that the funny half of the duo puts over a line of comedy that is wholly in keeping with the riding. It is thrilling in spots and funny all the way through and you cannot help but be immensely entertained. Remember also that Mabel McKinley, the popular soprano, is a big feature on this week's bill. Starting matinee Sunday the Bell management introduces a series of Laughing Road Shows. So there's a big time coming.

'APPLE MARY' LEAVES FORTUNE

ALLEGED FRAUDS ARE LAID BARE

Woman Who Sold Fruit in the Shadow of Board of Trade Is Dead.

Discrepancies in Marin County Official Accounts Charged in Letter.

CHICAGO, March 2. — "Apple Mary," for 40 years a character on the board of trade, died today. In the old building built after the great fire of 1871, and in the present one, her little fruit and sandwich stand reposed snugly just to the left of the entrance. She was a living directory of traders past and living. She sold sandwiches to "Jim" Patten when that monumental speculator of later years was a stripling.

"Old Hutch" was always "Hutch" to her. She saw the rise of the great Harver "corner" and its collapse with banks and brokerage houses about it. She called Joseph Leiter, "Joe." "Apple Mary's" real name was Teresa Cella. Little is known of her antecedents, save that she was partly of French extraction and came from Algeria to Chicago. She left a fortune estimated at $50,000.

A committee of the board of trade will conduct her funeral.

TENNISON SEEKS HOME FOR TWO ORPHANS

In an effort to secure a home for two orphans, J. M. Tennison, manager of the Children's Home Finding Society of California, has made a public appeal for comfortable places for a bright girl of years and a boy of 2 months.

Manager Tennison is eager to have the youngsters placed with a reliable family, where they will receive parental care and love. Both the girl and the boy are promising and it is asserted that several people have made inquiry about the little ones but Tennison declares that he has not as yet found the right party with whom he could entrust the parentless little ones.

RAILWAY, FACTORY AND CITY IN LAND TANGLE

Southern Pacific Wants Part of Property Owned by Daltons, Who Start Injunction Proceedings

Consideration of franchises applied for by the Oakland Traction Company and the Southern Pacific Company was deferred by the railroad committee of the city council last night in order that the matter might be referred to the committee of the whole. Several important grants are asked and it is held by the members of the railroad committee that all the conditions should be present when the applications are under consideration.

Jere T. Burke, attorney for the Southern Pacific Company, confirmed the statement, printed exclusively in THE TRIBUNE, that the railroad plans to take a part of the Henry Dalton property at Ninth and Cedar streets in giving "death curve" a broader and safer sweep. The land will be obtained either by negotiating a purchase or by condemnation proceedings.

FRANCHISES SOUGHT.

"The Southern Pacific Company owns practically all the land necessary for straightening this curve," Burke told the railroad committee last night. "All that is being asked of the city is a franchise across proposed extensions of streets and street ends. As a matter of fact, the streets are not there yet and we do not actually have to have a franchise. But the company considers it better policy to have no question of its rights in this territory."

The Southern Pacific Company owns land on each side of the Dalton concern, and it is understood that there will be no difficulty in gaining the franchise from the city. The company will then be armed with property rights on each side of the Dalton land and with a privilege granted by the city of Oakland. A transportation company in the service of the public can always invoke the right of eminent domain and condemnation proceedings over other cases in the courts, so that the matter may be expedited.

As a result of this condition it is probable, according to the Southern Pacific attorneys, that the Dalton Foundry Company will shortly be made defendants in a suit for condemnation of a right-of-way through the land owned by Henry Dalton and his sons, Frank and County Assessor Henry P. Dalton.

Dalton & Sons Company has made the city of Oakland, the Key Route and the Southern Pacific Company defendants in court by filing a request for a permanent injunction against the taking of the Key Route basin behind the new bulkhead line and the construction of wharves and docks several thousand feet out from the Dalton frontage.

The granting of such a permanent injunction would block the great harbor betterment in the Key Route basin and the engineers are hoping that this will not be permitted by the courts. The condemnation by the Southern Pacific Company of a right-of-way through the Dalton property, cutting of the western portion of the strip of land, would probably settle the matter automatically, as the railroad has decided to block the city's harbor development.

FOUR-TRACK LINE.

The franchise asked by the Southern Pacific Company is for a four-track line. Seventh street, extended, will cross the line and the representatives of the Southern Pacific Company were asked last night whether the railroad would be willing to stand half the expense of a subway crossing at this point, to be constructed when the trackage to the new city wharves in the Key Route basin shall warrant such an improvement. Attorney Burke gave the council assurance that the railroad would gladly meet the city half way on such a measure as it would do away with the cost of maintaining safety gates and flagmen at the crossing. The application for the franchise, with the Oakland Traction Company applications, were referred to the meeting of the committee of the whole.

Grievance Results in Walkout in New York and Jersey City.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Nearly 1000 drivers and helpers of the United States Express Company here and in Jersey City struck today pending an adjustment of a grievance which was expected to be considered later today by the company officials.

Last fall a general strike of drivers and helpers tied up the express business here for several weeks.

TRUSTEES BALK CHARITY PLAN OF MRS. REID

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—A plan on the part of Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, wife of British Ambassador Reid, to build a concrete and steel structure to cost $50,000, adjoining the Red Cross Hospital, at San Mateo, the funds for the erection of which were contributed by Mrs. Reid, has been blocked by the trustees of the San Mateo high school, who have declined to sell her a strip of school property which adjoins the hospital, which is the only available property that can be used for her purpose.

The trustees state that the school yard cannot be reasonably made smaller, though the citizens of San Mateo are anxious to accept the generous offer of Mrs. Reid. It is believed the trustees will be able to reach an adjustment of the difficulties.

RECIPROCITY IS FAVORED.

A DRUMMER'S DILEMMA

My house failed. I am stranded here without a dollar. I must sell the contents of my ten big sample trunks to raise money to pay my hotel bill and get back to New York. My house, which was one of the finest on Broadway, made nothing but men's high-class clothing and suits from $15 to $35. There are 212 custom-tailored suits and 26 overcoats in the entire sample outfit, and in order to raise sufficient cash with which to pay my hotel bills and defray my expenses to New York, I will sacrifice this high-grade line of spring and summer sample suits and overcoats at 50 cents on the dollar of the actual cost of production. I have tried to sell these garments to merchants, but as they knew of the predicament I was in the advantage they tried to take was outrageous. Therefore I decide to relate these suits and overcoats direct to the public.

Any suit in the house valued from $15 to $35, your choice $5.50.
Sale begins today and will end Saturday night at 9 o'clock. Positively no longer as I must get back to New York as soon as possible. Sale takes place in the manufacturers' sample room.

SOCIALIST WILL MAKE HOT FIGHT

J. Stitt Wilson Promises Whirlwind Campaign in Berkeley Mayoralty Contest.

BERKELEY, March 2.—Although the "Red Special" automobile, a sensational feature of Socialist J. Stitt Wilson's campaign for Governor, will be missing, Wilson intends to duplicate his speed-burning tactics during the latter part of his campaign for Mayor of Berkeley.

He is to be the only opponent of Mayor Hodghead, the time for filing petitions as municipal candidates having expired last night without the entrance of a dark horse into the race for chief executive of the college city.

Wilson returned last night from a speech-making campaign through the San Joaquin valley and Southern California, in opposition to anti-labor bills in the legislature, and announced this morning that there would be nothing new about his canvass of the city in the mayoralty contest.

TUG SEA PRINCE IS NOW ON WAYS

Red Stack Sunk by British Tramp Last Year to Be Repaired.

The Sea Prince tug, owned by the Red Stack concern, which was recently sunk by the British tramp Gray Stone Castle, off Angel Island, recently, was placed on the ways at the Pacific Ways and Shipyards Wednesday.

The ill fated vessel is now but a hulk with a big hole in her stern, where the Castle struck her, which resulted in the drowning of all of her crew except Captain Langren. At the time of the accident the Sea Prince was piloting the British tramp.

The vessel was raised by the White-law Wrecking Company after many obstacles had been overcome owing to the depth at which she was lying. She was raised a few weeks ago, but sank again.

The fishing boat Pedro Costa, belonging to the Western Fish Company, has left the Moore & Scott yards after being painted and repaired. The Saint Helena, Captain Jameson, took on forty cars of cement for Portland, at Long Wharf Wednesday. The steamer Taitao also loaded cement for Bremerton. The South Coast, Captain Olsen, unloaded lumber at Long Wharf the same day. She came from Gray's Harbor and reported fine weather on the trip. The steamer Johann Paulson, Captain Lundecker, is at Long Wharf with a miscellaneous cargo from the north.

PUGILIST JOHNSON APPEALS FROM FINE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Pugilist Jack Johnson took a step higher in the ranks of amateur attorneys this morning when he filed notice of appeal from the judgment of Police Judge Conlan, sentencing him to pay a fine of $100 or go to jail for ten days for fast speeding.

Whether or not "Big Boy" will appear personally in the Superior Court to argue his appeal is yet to be determined. Johnson was found guilty at his second trial Tuesday afternoon by a jury of speeding his buzz wagon at too fast a clip, and today Judge Conlan wanted to fine him $250. He found, however, that the limit fixed by the law was $100, so placed it at that figure.

Johnson promptly said he would appeal and is at liberty on $100 bail.

LONG SERIES OF THEFTS LEAD TO ARRESTS

W. P. Fuller Company Employees Accused of Systematic Looting.

PAINTERS CHARGED WITH RECEIVING THE BOOTY

Accused Men Confess: $600 in Goods Taken in Many Months.

Systematic looting of the local store of the W. P. Fuller Company at Eleventh and Alameda streets by four painters and contractors of paints and oils who are alleged to have made tools of a shipping clerk and porter in the store, was alleged yesterday when warrants were issued for the men, charging receiving stolen goods.

The men for whom warrants have been issued are H. B. Wayne of 837 Madison street, George Meader of 273 East Twelfth street, Hymen Weiz and Charles J. Frick, the charge being receiving stolen goods in each case. The men for whom warrants may be issued, and who are now in detinue pending an investigation are Vincent J. Heckman, a shipping clerk for the Fuller company, and Andrew McCann, a porter.

GOES ON MANY MONTHS.
The alleged looting of the store has been going on systematically for many months, and the loss of the company is estimated to be not less than $600. An investigation was started by David Williamson, local manager, when he says he discovered that the stock was disappearing mysteriously.

The four men for whom warrants have been issued are painters and contractors and are alleged by the Fuller company to have used the shipping clerk and porter as tools to "graft" upon the company. The W. P. Fuller company has stores in every large city on the Pacific coast, is perhaps one of the biggest dealers in paints and oils in Oakland, and it was as a result of the fact that heavy stock is always carried that the alleged looting was not discovered sooner.

CONFESS CRIME.

McCann and Heckman have confessed in part to the transaction, and there is a remote possibility that they will have to face the full brunt of the prosecution.

The amounts received by them, it is stated, were ridiculously small, a $50 barrel of oil being disposed of to one of the painters for $15. In many cases the proportion of profit from the deal was heavier than this, and the game, according to the managers of the store, proved a lucrative business for the painters.

Section Foreman Who Was Attacked by Discharged Workmen Dies From Injuries.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—The death of Joseph Sesti, 34 years old, a section foreman for the Southern Pacific company, revealed a story of brutal attack which occurred at Truckee a little over a week ago.

Sesti had discharged three men for laziness, and on the night of February 23 they lay in wait for him and beat him until his face was an unrecognizable mass.

He was brought to the Southern Pacific hospital in this city where death resulted at 11 a. m. from a fractured skull.

SEEK SAFETY IN FLIGHT! HOBBLE TROUSERS ARRIVE

The hobble skirt will have nothing on the hobble trousers.

STANDING WILL BE VERY POPULAR AFTER THE ADVENT OF THE NEW STYLES

Quite Englishy Are Latest in Togs for Men

The hobble trousers are with us at last. Such is the decree of New York's tailors, reinforced by Oakland's haberdashers. Men do not have a full-fledged fashion show at which to learn the season's styles, but a visit Wednesday to the various men's stores has revealed just what he must expect, and if he wants to be in fashion he surely will be fearfully and wonderfully made.

Gone are his comfortable peg top trousers and in their place are two swell stove-pipes, tight at the hips and straight as stove pipes can be at the sides. Gone, too, are his powerful shoulders, his deep chest, and in their place is a coat very short in the tails, narrow in the shoulders, tight about the body, with not even an extra pocket to add to its trimness, unless size begotten by the huge, flaring lapels. A vest equally snug and high in the neck, and his business suit is complete in all its trimness.

BRICK BROWN IN COLOR.

As for color, brick brown variously tinged with red, if the top-notch of swiftness is desired, the whole worked out in modest little broken plaids of red and blue. To top off this fetching attire suitably goes either a derby very low and round in the crown and broad in the brim, which must be worn not less than one size too large, so that it can be pulled well down over the head in back, or else a rough straw equally low-crowned and broad-brimmed. Naturally the accessories for all this gorgeousness must be equally fine and include such choice garments as striped flannel shirts with silk and linen collars and turned-back cuffs of solid colors, red if the President's example as a fashion authority is followed.

ENGLISH AS POSSIBLE.
In short, the aim is to be as English as possible, even the accent and such incidents as brindle bulls being called for. Of course there are various degrees of swaggerdom, but this is the high water mark, and to escape from its general outlines, seems inevitable.

SANTA FE OPERATING NEW OVERLAND TRAINS

A new Chicago to Pacific coast service on the Santa Fe was announced this morning by City Passenger Agent T. A. Rigdon, who gave out the following details:

On March 13 to April 27 inclusive, the Santa Fe will operate two California limited trains every Monday and Thursday, the service to be continued longer if the patronage proves sufficient. The trains will be equipped with the latest style Pullman standard sleeping cars, a composite car and a dining car, besides a ten-section observation car. There will also be one seven-room car, a baggage car, and two drawing room cars, and a twelve section one drawing room and one compartment car.

"Two cars will be run via the Grand Canyon direct."

THEFT OF BRUSHES CHARGED TO NURSE

BERKELEY, March 2.—Mrs. Carrie Mertz, a nurse, was arrested at the Majestic house, 411 15th street, Oakland today, and arraigned in Judge Edgar's court in this city on a charge of petty larceny. She is accused by G. D. Kierulff, 2928 Derby street, of the theft of brushes and clothing valued at $2.50 from his home. Mertz, who was employed until recently as a nurse. The articles were found in Mrs. Mertz's possession, according to the police.

WHISKY AND COIN LOOT OF BURGLAR

Two burglaries were reported to the police yesterday. R. S. Coxhead complained that during the absence of the family Wednesday, a burglar pried open the bathroom window and ransacked the place. Jewelry and plate valued at $150 were obtained by the thief. A bathroom window also afforded ingress to a burglar who looted the residence of Julia Leitao of 174 Seventh street last night. Two bottles of whisky and $26.10 in coin were taken from the place.

HOT SHOT FIRED AT SACRAMENTO

Eight-Hour Bill Brings Out Bitter Speeches and Charges of Trickery.

SACRAMENTO, March 3.—A committee meeting, held in what some members considered undue haste, embroiled the senate today in what Senator Wolfe, who has been coming here for sixteen years, declared on the floor to be a squabble unprecedented in his experience.

Charges of trickery, discourtesy and falsehood expressed or implied, were scattered about with liberal hand and at the conclusion of the morning session, prolonged half an hour beyond its usual time, the eight-hour-for-women bill, which brought about the scene, was barely beyond where it started.

A set of amendments which, at the start, were said to have no chance of acceptance, had been voted down and the bill went over until tomorrow. It will not be pressed until Monday.

BRIEF SESSION.

The bill was reported from the committee on labor and capital after an extremely brief session at which four members were present with recommendations that it do pass.

A minority report by Senators Wright and Hurd making the work day nine hours instead of eight, with provisions for overtime and exemption for some industries, came up as a special order to-day and Senator Cammelt, champion of the bill, rose to say that Senator Wright was "trying to kill it."

"I desire to have these words taken down," snapped Wright. "I deny the charge, and you, sir, know that I am not trying to kill this bill."

LARKINS MAKES CHARGE.

Later on Senator Larkins, chairman of the committee, said that in a previous committee meeting Senator Gates had asked to have amendments read in order that he might make a speech, and met the assurance from Gates that the motive attributed was not true in any sense.

After other speeches of the same tenor, the minority report was defeated, three to five. A motion to recommit the whole subject to a committee was lost, fourteen to twenty-two.

RECIPROCITY NOT TESTED IN SENATE

Senator Stone Fails to Precipitate Vote as He Promised.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Canadian reciprocity sentiment was not subjected to a test today. It was thought that Senator Stone might precipitate a vote which would disclose the attitude of the body. Early in the forenoon he had said he would move to take up consideration of the McCall bill to carry into effect the provisions of the agreement with Canada. The passage of the sundry civil bill, he said, would be followed by such a motion from him. The sundry civil bill passed, but the Missouri senator did not mention reciprocity.

In private conversation the senator said: "Upon second thought I concluded that it would not be wise to make a motion. I had learned that there would be a motion from the Republican side to lay my motion on the table to further the adoption of the bill. The vote on the motion to table would have been construed as a vote against reciprocity."

Mr. Stone's change of purpose is regarded as aiding materially in clearing the way for appropriation bills.

It is stated that a call will be issued to the eastern pastor if the members of the congregation of the First Baptist Church favorably agree as to his requirements and fitness for the position. He was expected to arrive here in the early part of February to occupy the pulpit made vacant by Rev. Homer J. Vothburgh, who received a call to the North Baptist Church of Camden, New Jersey.

N. E. A. WILL HOLD ITS CONVENTION ACROSS BAY

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Irwin Shepard of Winona, Minn., secretary of the National Education Association, has arrived in Los Angeles on his way from Mobile, Ala., to San Francisco to make arrangements for the holding of the national convention of the association in San Francisco July 8-14 next. This year's convention is an adjourned meeting from 1908, when the fire and earthquake in San Francisco prevented the holding of the convention there that year as scheduled.

Secretary Shepard stated that a satisfactory adjustment of the railroad rate question which for a time threatened to handicap the convention, had been made.

PRESENTATION IS MADE BY COUNTY CLERK COOK

In Speeches at Dinner Table Hosts Show Appreciation of Their Guest.

HIGH TRIBUTE PAID TO HIS CHARACTER

Recipient of Honors Replies to Praise in Fitting Words of Thanks.

Supervisor J. M. Kelley was the guest of honor at a banquet given at the Saddle Rock last evening, when many high tributes were paid to his qualities as a man and citizen and when his friends took the opportunity to present to him a very handsome solid gold watch as a token of their esteem. The banquet was attended by nearly 35 friends of the guest of honor, and many eulogistic speeches were made.

To County Clerk J. P. Cook fell the honor of making the address to accompany the presentation of the watch, an address in which Cook spoke of Kelley's many lovable qualities, his loyalty to his friends and associates and his splendid straightforwardness in public affairs.

Other equally complimentary talks were made by Sheriff Frank Barnett, Lieutenant Tom Flynn, J. McCreedy, P. Peratt, T. Holland, G. Clauson, J. Brown, D. Jones, J. Scanton, T. Eager, E. J. Malley, Ed Harrington, Ed Sullivan, W. J. Rodgers, H. E. Magill, L. Morris, H. Vollmer.

WOMAN MUST PRODUCE PROPERTY OF WARD

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Mrs. Ida Kelly, who will be remembered as the guardian of Chloe Tilton, widow of Charles Tilton, former county surveyor, who is alleged to have kept the woman in an insane asylum until recently, was cited to appear before Judge Coffey by an order issued today.

Louis H. Hammersmith, who has since been made guardian of Mrs. Tilton, complained this morning that he had been unable to get hold of her personal property, and Mrs. Kelly has been ordered to appear and show why she has not handed it over.

If Mrs. Kelly does not turn over the property the court intimated she will go to jail.

AUSTRIA AND ITALY MAY CLASH ON THE FRONTIER

Possession of Trieste and Tyrol Disputed by Italy; War Clouds Hover Over All of Europe

LONDON, March 3.—Austria and Italy are hurrying troops and guns to the frontier that separates them. The military movement is being executed quietly, but both governments are animated by a spirit which bodes trouble.

The agitation in Italy to regain possession of Trieste on the coast and Trent in the Tyrol from Austria has assumed sudden force and activity.

The question is asked whether the triple alliance can stand the strain to which it is being subjected. Indeed, international conditions in all Europe seem full of grave portents.

RESENT MOVE.

Italian feeling resents the decision of both Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph not to visit their ally, King Victor Emmanuel, during the celebration of the jubilee of Italy's unification. That these two monarchs will absent themselves is regarded as only another sign of the indifference to Italian sentiment which Austria and Germany have displayed recently. The crown prince of Germany will represent his father in Rome, while the Archduke Francis Ferdinand, the Austrian heir apparent, refuses to go further than Torino toward Rome.

This defiance paid by Austria to the prisoner of the Vatican offends Italy. Headed by Mayor Nathan, the Roman municipality has retorted by naming a street after Herdunk, the irreverent fanatic, who tried to assassinate Emperor Francis Joseph in 1882, a move that certainly will not pour balm upon existing wounds.

Increased Postage Plan Dies in the Senate

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The proposed increase of magazine postage is dead for this session. Chairman Penrose of the senate committee on postoffice and postroads announced on the senate floor today that in view of the certainty that the debate on the subject would obstruct other legislation and be futile any way, he would ask the senate to agree to abandon the proposition.

Penrose said he would present a substitute amendment providing for a commission to investigate the subject. Cummings announced that if the proposition were not withdrawn he would himself undertake to "talk it to death."

OAKLAND EAGLES TO CROSS BAY CALLS POLICE TO FIND HIS WIFE

Cornerstone Laying of New Hall Will Be Attended by Many Aeries.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Next Sunday will be a banner day for the Eagles throughout California, for extensive preparations are under way to celebrate the laying of the cornerstone of the new Eagles' hall on Golden Gate avenue, nearly opposite the Y. M. C. A. building. Delegations from all over the state will be present to participate in the exercises, which will be preceded by a monster parade, starting from the foot of Market street at 12 o'clock.

At Oakland Aerie No. 7 will attend in a body, accompanied by the drum corps and degree team in full uniform. They will leave on the narrow-gauge local at 11:15 a. m., and have been assigned the place of honor in the line or parade. Past State President Dr. H. B. Mahman, together with the 1911 celebration committee, will march at the head of the division, with the officers and a large delegation of the members, who will wear appropriate badges.

The cornerstone will be laid by County Clerk Harry I. Mulerey, assisted by Past Grand President of the Order Frank E. Herring and Past President Theodore Bell. The hall is one of the largest fraternal buildings in the state, comprising three floors devoted to lodge and assembly rooms, where national conventions can be accommodated, and here the coming grand series of the Eagles will convene next August.

The members of Alameda, Berkeley and Fruitvale aeries will join the Oakland contingent at the foot of Market street in San Francisco, and the Alameda county Eagles promise to be largely represented in the parade, each aerie having its own drum corps to furnish music and enliven the line of march.

YOUTH IS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Filipino Who Killed Woman Is Spared Death Penalty by Jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Matthias de la Cruz, a Filipino, aged 21, was condemned to a life of penal servitude at Folsom by Superior Judge Lawlor this morning in compliance with the verdict of a jury who had fixed the term of punishment.

On the night of January 2, De La Cruz shot and killed Nina Jones, an entertainer, in a lodging house at 412 Stockton street. The young man claimed that he had returned from Alaska, where he was employed, with his pockets lined with gold and that the woman, having gained possession of his money, had threatened to leave him. It was this that prompted the shooting.

At the trial he set up a plea of insanity. His youth saved him from the death penalty.

A Job Lot of Candidates.

Among the multitude of candidates for municipal offices a few good names are discernible. Most of the timber is indifferent or scrubby; some of the aspirants are jokes, and one or two are positively indecent. Why the adoption of the new charter should have brought to the front such a lot of Cheap John candidates is a mystery. The commission form of government does endow every fellow who craves office with either brains or popularity. Some of the aspirants for the office of commissioner are better fitted to keep the pound or drive a sprinkling cart than they are to administer a government which costs over two millions a year. The direct primary and the free-for-all method of electing municipal officers will be a sad failure if the city should be officered by some of the chaps who have announced themselves as candidates. Nothing but good can be said of such men as George Gross and Edwin Meese, but the other kind are much more numerous. It is also to be said that Miss Annie F. Brown is an ideal candidate for School Director, for she is thoroughly familiar with the affairs of the School Department and is actuated by a sincere desire to benefit and improve it. However, the candidates for School Director average far better than the candidates for commissioner, who are with a few exceptions a job lot of job-chasers.

A bill has been introduced in the Assembly to make divorce easier. It should be killed. Divorce is already too easy in this State. If there is to be any amendment of the divorce laws they should be made more stringent. It is now so easy and inexpensive to obtain a severance of the marriage bonds that not a few couples get married on trial. If they find the condition and the partner satisfactory the marriage is permanent, otherwise it is dissolved—often by mutual consent. Many marriages do not hold for more than a few months. Sometimes separation takes place before the honeymoon is over. This easy putting on and off the ties of wedlock is a scandal and a menace to society. It leads to what has been aptly termed progressive polygamy. It is very common to see it announced when a divorce is applied for that one or both the parties have been previously divorced more than once. This sort of thing should not be encouraged. Certainly the law should not favor and facilitate it.

The short ballot seems to attract a long list of candidates. The primary ballot will look like the muster roll of Coxe's army.

It is with difficulty that the Legislature can now be persuaded to make adequate provision for the State University at Berkeley. If the Throop school at Pasadena should be thrown on the bounty of the State it would be still harder to get sufficient funds to properly maintain the Berkeley institution. But the State has no need of Throop school as an adjunct to its educational system. Besides the State University, which has high grade courses of professional study, the State has several normal schools, a polytechnic school at San Luis Obispo, a demonstration farm and dairy at Davisville, while all the large cities maintain polytechnic schools. At Palo Alto tuition is free, which gives the people the advantages of another university without having to pay any part of the cost. Berkeley gives better technical training than Throop, and is sufficient for the needs of the State. Throop has no more claim on the State than has Mills College, or Santa Clara, or any other private educational institution. It is a good school and doubtless needs money, but that is no reason why the State should support it.

Watch THE TRIBUNE grow. On March 1, 1910, THE TRIBUNE printed 956 inches of advertising. On March 1, 1911, it printed 1760 inches. This shows how business is prospering in Greater Oakland. Moreover, it is convincing proof of the high esteem in which advertisers hold THE TRIBUNE. More than ever is it THE paper of Alameda county.

Why anybody should sympathize with the I. W. W. men who are tramping to Fresno merely to get in a conflict with the authorities passes comprehension. Persons seeking trouble usually find it. Those men have no business in Fresno; they are not seeking employment, but are bent upon creating a disturbance. The cause of organized labor cannot be furthered by the tactics they pursue. No manufactured grievance ever receives public sympathy or favorable attention. Men out of employment are deserving of sympathy and such aid as they require to enable them to obtain work. They are entitled to fair treatment and generous judgment; if they have wrongs those wrongs should be redressed; if they have been maltreated the persons guilty of the maltreatment should be punished. But men who travel hundreds of miles merely to create a disturbance and provoke a conflict with the officers of the law do not belong to the deserving class. They are a detriment to organized labor and a hindrance to the reforms in the industrial system that organized labor demands.

Pressing Need for County Hospital.

That a new hospital for the humane treatment of the county's indigent sick and suffering is one of the most pressing needs of the times is fully recognized by every member of the County Board of Supervisors. The congestion at the County Infirmary farm is intense. It has been keeping pace during the last four or five years with the growth of population. Conditions have reached that point where relief must be obtained and that speedily. The building originally erected for the care and treatment of the county's indigent wards and patients has long since become too small, and all kinds of expedients have been adopted in order to provide for the overflow. Buggy sheds, stables, smoke house, attics, basements, narrow hallways and tents are crowded with the farm's tenants. Some relief will be soon afforded by the transfer of the consumptives from the tents they now occupy to the new tuberculosis hospital, which is nearly finished, where they will receive sanitary open air treatment. But the sick, the feeble and the aged and helpless will still be huddled together in the contracted quarters in the main building and the rickety outbuildings under conditions against which every humane instinct revolts.

But nothing can be done until the bill which Senator Stetson has introduced providing for the erection of county buildings after the proposition has been submitted to a popular referendum. If the bill becomes law, as it should with as little delay as possible, the supervisors can then proceed with the erection of a county hospital either by bonding the county or by levying a special tax. They have already provided a fund for the purchase of a suitable site within the limits of this city.

Once a modern hospital building shall have been erected the problem of improving the conditions at the County Infirmary Farm will be simplified. The farm is, in fact, ideal property for the care of the feeble, aged and infirm; and if the hospital feature were eliminated it could be remodeled so that the county's wards would spend their last days under its hospitable roof in comparative comfort. Speedy action is what is now needed by the Legislature on the Stetson bill. That being accomplished, the supervisors are ready to proceed at once, for they have the keenest appreciation of the gravity of the situation at the County Infirmary.

"ALL WITH THE SAME THOUGHT"

THE DAWN OF A NEW ERA FOR THE PACIFIC COAST.

—SAN JOSE MERCURY.

War Bogie Promotion.

With Calamity Hobson persistently predicting war between the United States and Japan (the latest scare being that the latter is planning to seize the Panama canal), and Professor Daenell of the University of Kiel informing the university undergraduates at Berkeley that an early war between Germany and England may be expected as the result of their intense commercial rivalry, Carnegie's dove of universal peace is kept in a restless frame of mind and incessantly on the wing uncertain where to alight.

Dr. Daenell is Kaiser Wilhelm III's exchange professor at Columbia University this year. He takes the ground that the rival colonial policies of Germany and England will ultimately result in a clash of arms. He points out that British capital is being invested in enormous sums in various enterprises at different parts of the world and that British business policies will not permit that nation's toes being trod upon anywhere. The inference to be drawn from the German professor's assertion is that Germany is the nation that is doing the toe-treading act, which is probably true. It made a bluff at treading on Uncle Sam's toes at Samoa many years ago, and subsequently at Manila bay; but the bluff was quickly called by each of the naval commanders stationed at those points.

It is quite true that Germany has strong colonial ambitions, and that it has within the last quarter of century endeavored to emulate the colonial policy of Great Britain, particularly in Africa, where it has acquired vast possessions. All of these border on the colonial territory under British jurisdiction. But while the latter are being developed on intelligent lines and flourishing under a benevolent policy, Germany is making no headway in the matter of colonization. Its greatest success in that line seems to be in Brazil, where a vast amount of German capital has been invested in Brazilian enterprises, and so large a number of German colonists have been established that suspicions have been aroused of late years of aggressive designs on that republic. Every German attempt to colonize its African possessions has so far proved a failure, for the reason that the government does not understand how to deal with the native population with whom it is almost constantly in a state of war. That Germany is envious of Britain's commercial prosperity through the success of its colonial policy there can be no doubt; but that the commercial rivalry between the two countries will eventually result in war is entirely another question. The bugaboo of war between them has been long fostered by meddlesome busybodies and at times made both governments uneasy. The relations between the two nations are, however, more cordial today than they have been at any time in the past twenty years, and the possibility of war between them is more remote than at any date during that period. In fact, war between Germany and England is just now as improbable as a clash of arms is between Japan and the United States.

ABOLISH THE CONSTITUTION

After all has been said that can be said in favor of the recall of the judiciary, the fact remains that it makes the mob the real interpreter of our laws and the final court of review. The question will not be whether the courts have ruled in accordance with the law, but whether their rulings have caught the popular fancy.

We are guaranteed certain rights under our constitution, of which the law is really a part; and if the law is to be made subsidiary to the popular whim, why not do away with the law and the constitution entirely, abolish the office of judge, and merely leave the determination of all legal questions to a jury or whatever we might decide to call it, representing the people? That is what it would amount to in the end.

It is true that they tried something of the kind in the days of the French Revolution, and that the result was not entirely satisfactory; but that is no sign that the thing would not work now. We have advanced a great deal since those times—or think we have—and now-ads The People can do no wrong.

The only logical conclusion to the principle of making the judiciary subsidiary to the popular whim is to abolish the constitution, do away with all our laws, and put the judges out of business for keeps, because they will no longer be needed. This is what The Press Democrat stands for—in a great horn spoon!—Santa Rosa Democrat.

QUESTION OF SKIRTS

Two continents have temporarily been thrown into a state of convulsion by the question whether women are to wear the harem skirt. In the excitement Canadian reciprocity has been thrust into the background and Russia's threats against China almost forgotten.

The pros have started their campaign in Paris at the race-track, on the boulevards and on the stage, and their reception leaves the leading costumers still in doubt. The anti's are writing disparaging letters to the newspapers, but if the decision goes against them, a few weeks from now the sternest of them may be wearing the despised garment.

Possibly the harem skirt at this moment may appear freakish, sensational, impractical and no end of other things. But what has reason to do with women's fashions, anyhow? If the harem skirt becomes the style, it is the style, and that settles it. The latest thing is never so bad as to deserve contempt. It is last year's clothes that are an offense.

If fashion so decrees, anything is possible, and mere man shall not demur. After all, it does not seriously matter whether the harem skirt or the crinoline is to be the style. In a year or two it will have disappeared and something else taken its place. That much is certain, though common sense and good taste may have little influence.—New York World.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

Senator Stanford announced the death to the senate and representative Chapple to the house, and each branch of congress then adjourned. George Hearst was born in Franklin county, Missouri, September 3, 1820. In 1850 he left that state and crossed the plains to California, arriving at Placerville, El Dorado county, in October of that year. Soon after he became possessed of what was later known as the Comstock lode and the famous Ophir mine which laid the foundations for his immense fortune. In June 1862 he married Miss Phoebe E. First Thimbles

The thimble is a Dutch invention, and was first brought to England by John Lotting, who began its manufacture at Islington in 136. The name was derived from the words "thumb" and "bell." Originally it was called "thumbell," then "thumble."

It is recorded that thimbles were first worn on the thumb. Formerly thimbles were made of brass and iron only, but now they are in gold, silver, steel, horn, ivory and even glass.

A thimble owned by the Queen of Spain is shaped like a lotus bud, the royal flower. It is of gold, thickly studded with diamonds. In Naples pretty thimbles of lava from Mount Vesuvius are sold, rather as curiosities than as articles of utility, for they are easily broken.—Harpers' Weekly.

COUNTY DELEGATES AT WORK ON INCREASE

Will Contend District Is Entitled to Two More Representatives.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)
SACRAMENTO, March 3.—The preliminary step in the matter of deciding upon the apportionment of the county of Alameda, under the federal census for 1910, has been taken by the Alameda county delegation in the legislature. That body has appointed a sub-committee consisting of Assemblyman Young of Berkeley, Assemblyman Crosby of Alameda and Assemblyman Strobridge of Hayward to consider the matter. After these gentlemen have considered the subject, they will report to the main body as to the course which they conclude should be followed.

As there is at the present time no official report of the federal census of Alameda county available for the delegation, County Clerk Cook has been appealed to for whatever information on the subject his office may possess.

30,000 IN DISTRICT.
The committee is to proceed on the assumption that the population of Alameda county is about 40,000, and that there are to be eighty assembly districts, there should be 500 people apportioned to each assembly district.

The population of Alameda county is considerably more than 40,000. On the basis above outlined, that county would be entitled to eight assemblymen instead of seven as at the present time, and five senators instead of four now in office.

The sub-committee realizes both the unpleasantness and the stress of the task allotted but the members say they will bend every effort to perform it as soon and satisfactorily as possible.

TO PREVENT EXPOSURES.
It is rarely that a communication from a grand officer of a fraternal organization appears on the floor of the legislature, but there is now in the hands of the Alameda county delegation such a communication from H. P. Richardson, the grand secretary of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows of this State.

The communication asks the delegates to support Assembly bill 718, by which, which makes it an offense for any person not so authorized to appear in public, to print or publish for sale any writing or printing purporting to be a statement or expose of the secret or unwritten work of such an organization.

Violation of the bill is punishable by a fine of not less than $500 and imprisonment not exceeding a year or both.

Joe McKown, is devoting some attention to amending the present law governing the practice of pharmacy in the State.

The proposed amendment to the bill No. 750 will make the present law even more acceptable than it is at the present time.

HURD CONFESSES MISTAKES MADE AT THIS SESSION

SENATOR H. M. HURD, who is sorry he voted for Works.

SACRAMENTO, March 3.—In a vehement speech before the Senate yesterday Hurd of Los Angeles confessed that he had made two mistakes, his vote to make Judge John D. Works United States Senator and his vote for woman suffrage.

"When I voted for John D. Works," Hurd shouted at the top of his voice, "I made a mistake; every member of the Senate knows I made a mistake; the Senate knows I made a mistake; and Teddy Roosevelt knows he made a mistake."

"I made another mistake. The greatest crime I ever committed was when I cast my vote for woman suffrage. But I didn't go around and apologize for my vote and say I was going home to oppose it, as a lot of Senators did."

LEGISLATIVE NOTES
EXPLOSIVE BILL.—Senate bill 713, by Senator Martineau, providing drastic regulations about the manufacture and sale of explosives, passed the assembly by unanimous vote.

QUESTIONABLE ADVERTISING.—The judiciary committee of the assembly heard arguments last night on a bill by Assemblyman Butler to prevent the publication in any newspaper or magazine of questionable or suggestive medical advertising. No action was taken.

CONFIRM APPOINTMENTS.—The senate confirmed without opposition Governor Johnson's appointment of Matt J. Sullivan, San Francisco; Chester E. Rowell, Fresno; R. Cameron Rogers, Santa Barbara; and Marshall Simpson, Los Angeles, to be Panama-Pacific Exposition commissioners.

PASS BALLOT BILL.—Senator Boynton's Australian ballot bill was passed in the house without opposition after a few minor amendments had been made.

WILL GET COSTLY AUTO.—Governor Hiram W. Johnson has but to affix his signature to a bill to tax automobiles to cost $3200.

RESCINDS VOTE.—The senate judiciary committee rescinded its previous vote approving Senator Campbell's bill abolishing the office of code commissioner.

TRADING STAMP BILL.—A number of representatives of grocers' associations appeared before the committee in behalf of a bill to create a trading stamp bill. Action was deferred.

BILLS SIGNED
SACRAMENTO, March 3.—Among the bills signed by the Governor yesterday were the following:

Senate bills—Making it a misdemeanor to drive an automobile on a highway when intoxicated or to throw glass or like substance on a public highway—Campbell.

Reclassifying the counties of the State—Hewitt.

For an additional judge in Tulare county—Kilkins.

OAKLANDERS FIGHT HARD FOR REGULATION OF NICKELODEONS

Delegation Declares Morality Is Concerned in Effort to Put Moving Picture Places Under Law's Control; Legislative News

(By EDWARD A. O'BRIEN.)
SACRAMENTO, March 3.—Oakland, Alameda and Alameda county went to the front last night in the cause of adding morality by regulating nickelodeons and other places where moving pictures are displayed. There were present Chief Deputy District Attorney Carey and Probation Officer Reuss of Oakland; Mrs. George B. Bird and Mrs. Evelyn Webster of the Adelphean Club of Alameda; Senator Strobridge of Hayward, the author of the measure regulating nickelodeons, and Assemblyman Young of Berkeley, author of the bill prohibiting the sale of tobacco to minors under 18 years of age.

The hearing was before the Senate committee on public morals. Deputy District Attorney Carey said that the nickelodeon bill had been modeled after the law of New York, prohibiting the production of pictures and plays tending to corrupt morals. He declared that light was necessary because it has been demonstrated in some of those amusement resorts in Oakland, San Francisco and other places that the gloom tended to demoralize.

MANY URGE PASSAGE.
Senator Strobridge read a number of letters from people in various parts of the State urging the passage of the measure. At the suggestion of Deputy District Attorney Carey, the bill was amended, prohibiting the attendance of children under sixteen years of age at pictures shows or penny arcades, unless accompanied by a parent or adult guardian, after 9 p. m. in summer and 8 o'clock p. m. in winter.

Still another amendment requires the auditor to be so lighted that the features of all persons may be distinctly seen during a performance, with the qualification that this does not apply to theaters where temporary darkness is employed for dramatic effect.

SUPPORTS BOYNTON BILL.
In supporting the Boynton compulsory arbitration bill in the Senate yesterday, Senator Stetson of Oakland, among other things, said:

"I was interested in what the distinguished Senator (Shanahan) said when he pointed out that if the ranks of labor were represented here their votes would be the negative and that those who represented public service corporations were here their votes would also be in the negative. What the Senator has said seems to show the necessity of the conclusion of a measure of this kind by the Senate."

"I have a personal recollection of two great disputes between employer and employee. One was in the great car strike in '94 and the other was in recent years. It seemed to me that in each trouble of this kind there are three parties to the dispute, namely, the employer, the employee and the public. To respect the wishes of those three factors is one of the purposes of this bill to minimize the fact that the public is interested in all labor disputes."

METHOD IS DIRECT.
"When there is a dispute between labor and capital the effort of each of the contending parties is to convince the public. This bill provides a direct and simple method to enable the public to determine as to which is worthy of sympathy and to submit the dispute for arbitration and arbitration. The board to which the dispute is submitted takes testimony and publishes a report, so that the disputants will have the advantage of a fair hearing by the public, so that one side or another may have stamped upon it approval or disapproval as may be deserved."

"The question whether or not the parties to a dispute involving expense and suffering must hold out for a reasonable time to see as to whether or not there can be a peaceable adjustment of the difficulties."

AS TO DISMISSALS.
"No person will be prevented from discharging an employee and no person will be prevented from leaving employment if he so wills, or be prevented from exercising his personal liberty."

"There is no argument made against this bill that cannot be made against it by capital. A five months' delay in the settlement of a labor dispute under this bill is a dispute and it would seem to be a dispute involving a variety of considerations and there ought not to be five months given to it because a dispute of that kind is disastrous to the community."

"From my point of view of this bill I am in favor of it."

GOVERNOR WHITTLES HIS MILITARY STAFF
SACRAMENTO, March 3.—A bill which reduces the Governor's staff to the small proportions desired by Governor Johnson was passed by the senate. As it has gone through the lower house it was amended by Mr. Heretofore Governors have not been restricted in their appointments of aides-de-camp, and the Governor's staff has been an amazing aggregation of a kind and talented elegance. Governor Gillett had more than thirty personal aides, whose rank was Lieutenant-Colonel and who were addressed in society as "Colonel."

The bill limits the Governor's personal aides to five, adding one naval aide with the rank of Commander. The Governor is also authorized to detail five National Guard officers and one naval militia officer as aides.

THROOP MEASURE IS SENT OUT WITH O. K.
SACRAMENTO, March 3.—The Finance Committee has reported the Throop Polytechnic bill to the senate with amendments, recommending its passage. It provides that the state shall take over this school at Pasadena and name it the California Institute of Technology. Senator Gillett's bill originally appropriated $100,000 for maintenance during the next two fiscal years and $400,000 for new buildings. The committee cut out the latter item.

Senator Strobridge of Alameda county had the bill amended so as to confine its courses of instruction to departments of engineering. Even as altered it is not satisfactory to the State University men. The Throop property is valued at $500,000 and the Board of Trustees of the University says that a few wealthy residents of Pasadena will give the institute from ten to twelve millions when the state assumes possession.

CONGRESS TO BE THANKED FOR FAIR LABOR ARBITRATION BILL IS DEFEATED

Resolutions Drawn Up by Legislature Will Be Sent to Washington.

Weinstock's Measure Fought in Senate for Three Hours.

SACRAMENTO, March 3.—The bill providing for the settlement of labor disputes by arbitration, which was prepared by Colonel H. Weinstock, was defeated yesterday in the senate after a discussion lasting three and a half hours. It was opposed by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and labor organizations of San Francisco. The compulsory provisions of the measure were limited to public work and public service corporations, and no representative of these employers appeared here.

Union labor men were against the bill because, as they said, such a law would deprive them of their right to strike. Under it a strike or lockout would have to be delayed until the board of arbitration for which the bill provided had given its decision on the matter in dispute. Senator Boynton, who introduced the bill, said that a similar enactment worked well in Canada and was now entirely satisfactory to the labor organizations of that country, although they fought it when proposed.

Senator Gates of Los Angeles observed that the bill was a "labor law" and that he did not feel sure would help workmen. The roll call was as follows: Ayes—Senators Ayer, Bell, Bills, Boynton, Estadillo, Gates, Hewitt, McHugh, Hurd, Roseberry, Rush, Stetson, Strobridge, Thompson, Walker, Wright—16. Nays—Senators Beban, Birdsall, Black, Bryant, Burnett, Caminetti, Campbell, Cartwright, Cassidy, Cullen, Finn, Hans.

RECORD VERY POOR.
LAWRENCE, Kan., March 3.—O more than a thousand students enrolled at the University of Kansas, 496 have failed, according to announcement made by the faculty. Of this number one-third are women.

FREE LABOR BUREAU
BILL IS RECOMMENDED
SACRAMENTO, March 3.—Assemblyman Beckett's free labor bureau bill, which he believes will be the start of a scheme to furnish work for all and men for all work, has received a favorable report from the ways and means committee and is assured passage in the house.

Beckett's bill provides for the inspection of all employment agencies under the State Labor Commissioner. Free labor bureaus in San Francisco and Los Angeles are to be established under the provisions of the bill. Inspectors of factories and workshops also under the State Labor Commissioner are provided for.

SENATORS ACT ON PASSPORT PROBLEM

SACRAMENTO, March 3.—The senate by a unanimous vote adopted a resolution urging congress to adopt a pending resolution demanding the universal recognition of American passports, regardless of the race or creed of the holder. The resolution was introduced at the request of the National Society of R'n'd P'th, which is opposing alleged discrimination against Jewish American citizens entering Russia.

'TALE OF TWO CITIES' TO BE SEEN ON SCREEN

The Lyric theater, beginning next Sunday, March 5, will have a very strong attraction in a fine new film giving moving pictures of scenes from Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities." This should prove instructive as well as interesting, for everyone has either read or heard of this famous book which tells a tale of self-sacrifice through love on the part of Sydney Carton and gives a wonderful picture of the days of the French revolution in Paris.

To accompany the film will be something like fifteen different musical selections appropriate to the action.

CANDIDATES FOR COMMISSIONERSHIP UP UNOFFICIALLY IN FIGHT

No Formal Announcement of Mott Ticket to Be Made Before April 18.

RUMOR DISTRIBUTES THE VARIOUS OFFICES

John Forrest Files Declaration for Commissionership on No. 4.

With the filing of a declaration of candidacy for commissionership No. 4 by John Forrest, member of the board of freeholders which framed the new city charter and a representative of organized labor in Oakland, the unofficial administration ticket for the April primaries is said to be complete. No formal announcement of a line-up of candidates with Mayor Mott as its head will be made prior to April 18, when the primary under the new charter will be held, but a group of four candidates for commissionerships, with Mayor Mott and City Auditor George Gross, will probably be associated in the campaign of the next few weeks.

There is still some doubt as to whether this group will be given the administration backing, as there is a possibility of new material being entered in the political field. But, barring changes due to additions, this group of candidates will form an administration ticket.

NO ADMINISTRATION TICKET. It will be given no official endorsement, and will not be named as an administration ticket. At the same time, the group will receive the active backing of the political friends of Mayor Frank K. Mott and County Auditor George Gross.

The men who are thus associated as friends of present administration are candidates to be associated with Mayor Mott in his race for re-election as mayor of Oakland are as follows: Auditor—George E. Gross, present incumbent. Commissioner No. 1—Edwin Meese, city treasurer. Commissioner No. 2—William J. Bacus, city councilman. Commissioner No. 3—Frederick C. Turner, city engineer. Commissioner No. 4—John Forrest, labor candidate and freeholder.

DUTIES TO BE DIVIDED. With the filing of the unofficial administration ticket, Mayor Mott has indicated the distribution of offices under the new charter, which will be made by the new council after taking office July 1. By the charter the commissioners shall assign themselves at the first meeting to the various commissions, and should the group named be elected, the men are connected in political gossip with the commissionerships as follows: Department of public affairs—Mayor Frank K. Mott. Department of revenue and finance—Edwin Meese. Department of public health and safety—John Forrest. Department of public works—Fred C. Turner, city engineer. Department of streets—William J. Bacus, for several years chairman of the street committee of the city council.

STRONGEST LINEUP. This unofficial lineup is considered one of the strongest political aggregations possible in Oakland. Labor organizations, it is understood, have been urging Richard Hambl, another freeholder, to run for commissionership No. 2, but it is doubtful whether Hambl can be persuaded to go into the political arena at this time. Councilman Bacus, who has strong business interests behind him, has been endorsed by twelve local labor unions, and it is probable that the labor forces will be satisfied to consider him in a sense as a representative.

John Forrest, who filed his declaration this morning, is one of the strongest leaders of the labor movement in Oakland, and who has been president of the Gas Workers' union, and has been an official of the Central Labor Council. Forrest has been in Oakland for the past thirty-five years, his home being in East Oakland. It is thought he will have a strong backing throughout the city.

TO OPPOSE GROSS. With the exception of the Socialist candidates, no names have been mentioned in opposition to City Auditor George Gross to succeed himself, or against City Treasurer Meese, for commissionership No. 1. City Engineer Turner has several candidates for commissionership No. 3, and there are eight in the race for the fourth commissionership besides John Forrest.

Up to noon today no additional petitions of nomination were presented to City Clerk Thompson. The last day upon which petitions may be received is March 9. J. J. Kennedy filed his declaration as a candidate for school director No. 3 late yesterday afternoon.

Sundry Civil and Naval Bills Pass

WASHINGTON, March 3.—On motion of Senator Owen the senate struck out of the sundry civil bill the appropriation of $50,000 for the prosecution of suits to set aside conveyances of allotted lands by the five civilized tribes in Oklahoma. The bill was then passed. The naval appropriation bill carrying about $125,000,000 was called up and passed and the senate resumed consideration of the postoffice bill.

SCOTT OF KANSAS ATTACKS REGALL

Likewise Takes a Swing at Statesmen Who Are "Wiser Than Washington."

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Representative Charles F. Scott of Kansas, in a speech in the house today, attacked the initiative and referendum and recall, characterizing them as "revolutionary and subversive of our present system of government, a declaration in effect that representative government is a failure."

"A new school of statesmen has arisen," he said, "wiser than Washington, or Hamilton; wiser than Lincoln, Sumner or Benton; wiser than Garfield, Blaine, McKinley or Taft, knowing more in their day than the people have known in all the years since the republic was founded."

He said he should hesitate to introduce into our system of government a device which had been in vogue in the past, "would have made it possible for the Tories to have recalled Washington, the Copperheads to have recalled Lincoln and the Jingoists to have recalled McKinley."

Above all, he said, we should hesitate to introduce into our political service a device or subject to recall a judge whose decision happened not to accord with the passion or the prejudice of the hour.

He said the statutes of every state in the Union provide a way by which recreant officials may be ousted from office, or otherwise punished.

He said the initiative and referendum made it possible for a few people to suspend a law which a legislature may have passed in plain obedience to the mandate of a majority.

LILIPUTIAN ARRESTS. A FULL SIZED MAN. BELFAST, Me., March 3.—Standing little more than three feet in height, yet arresting a man of full grown stature and landing him safely in the police station, was the work of "Admiral" Don O. Little Miss Gertrude Naphtali entertained numbers of young children at a party yesterday afternoon in her home on Pacific avenue.

Mrs. John McCallin has returned from a visit of several weeks in Southern California and is once more domiciled at the Fairmont hotel.

Mrs. M. Solomons was hostess yesterday afternoon at a luncheon given at her home on Jackson street, where five tables were entertained. Mrs. Solomons' last bridge party will be given on March 10.

What might have been a great celebration turned out only a good affair yesterday when the quarters of the new commandant of the Presidio, Colonel Charles W. Wilson, were held in honor of Mrs. Wilson, who has recently come here from Fort Seward, Savannah, Ga., and who has already proven herself to be a great addition to our social life, and much is being done for them. Mrs. John Helmer entertained the upper class at a reception at the Hotel Stewart and others have extended a cordial welcome to them. Colonel Wilson's headquarters are at an "army luncheon" tomorrow in compliment to Mrs. Wilson.

Mrs. George Monroe Pinckard and Mrs. Richard Green entertained several friends most delightfully yesterday at ten at the El Comodoro Club. They were not alone to meet Mrs. Charles Baldwin (Virginia Hobart that was), who is spending a few days at the Fairmont Hotel with Mr. Baldwin, prior to sailing Wednesday for the Orient.

Smith to the regret of her many San Francisco friends, "Broadmoor," in Colorado, has been their home for several years.

Miss Adele Hirschberg was hostess at a handsome tea yesterday afternoon at the Palace Hotel. She was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. A. Bloom, Mrs. L. Frankel, Miss Vera Weiss, Miss Margaret Levy and Miss Hazel Steiner.

Friends are anticipating with much pleasure the coming visit of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scott Brooks. They will visit Mrs. Brooks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carter, in Berkeley, at their home on Clay street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker have leased the Joseph Sadeo Tobia home in San Mateo for the summer, and are planning to go down the peninsula next month.

Mrs. Othello Scribner received eight of her friends at luncheon yesterday at the Palace hotel.

Miss Rose Livingston will entertain at a tea tomorrow afternoon at the Palace.

Mrs. George Willcutt has bidden a number of friends to meet her at the Palace Hotel on Saturday afternoon for a chat over the tennis. "Madame Sheriff" will be enjoyed by Mrs. Willcutt and guests before tea.

PIONEERS DEAR RECALLS HISTORY

Isham Case Center of Bitter Contest in Early Days of County.

The passing of Isham Case, who died Wednesday at the home of his son in this city, removed from life not only a pioneer citizen, but one who formerly occupied important positions of public trust in Alameda county and for a number of years was the central figure in one of the fiercest contests that ever agitated the public.

Arriving in this county more than fifty years ago, Case took for wife a daughter of J. B. Larue, the pioneer who established the pioneer ferry service from the old embarcadero at the foot of Commerce street to San Francisco, and who also owned a large part of the former town of San Antonio, which later was merged with the town of Clinton and became eventually the Seventh Ward of the city of Oakland.

ELECTED ASSESSOR.

In 1863 Mr. Case was elected County Assessor on the Union ticket, other officials elected at the same time including W. W. Crane, state senator; Thomas Scott and Asa Walker, assemblymen; Harry N. Morse, sheriff; A. M. Church, county clerk; Socrates Huff, treasurer; S. G. Nye, district attorney; Duncan Cameron, public administrator; B. N. Seymour, superintendent of public schools; T. O. Hopkins, surveyor; and B. P. Sanford, coroner. Harry N. Morse is the sole survivor of the above list.

Mr. Case's assessment of the property of Alameda county in the year 1864-65 reached a total of $4,212,110, of which Oakland's share was $1,386,910.

In 1870 Case was elected a member of the first board of trustees for the new town of Brooklyn, later merged with Oakland as the old Seventh ward.

BITTER CONTEST.

He also continued as a member of the board of supervisors and for three years was engaged in a bitter contest over the removal of a county seat from San Leandro to Oakland. Together with Supervisor Clement, who represented Alameda township, Case was at first opposed to the contemplated removal, but the propounds of the movement brought tremendous influences to bear and Case, recognizing the inevitable, secured the annexation of the town of Brooklyn to the City of Oakland.

Then while chairman of the Board of Supervisors and joined by three of the other four members, he succeeded in landing the county seat on block 22 of the old town of San Antonio. Case offered, in behalf of the estate of block of land to the county and also gave a cash bonus of $10,000 to have the site accepted. It was so accepted and a building company also gave block 21 for the court house as there was opposition to the placing of the county seat in San Antonio. A wooden court house was erected on block 21, at the corner of East Fourteenth street and Twentieth avenue, and a jail building on block 22.

CONTINUE AGITATION. However, downtown citizens of Oakland continued to agitate for the removal of the county buildings to the central part of the city. Feeling ran high. Mass meetings were frequently held. Injunctions were sued several times to prevent the board of supervisors from carrying out the work of erecting a court house and jail. The county auditor refused to allow the contractor's claims, was taken to the Supreme Court on a writ of mandamus and compelled to do so. All through these troublesome times Supervisor Case stood firm for the San Antonio site.

Then in 1874 the Oakland faction went to the legislature and after a hard fight succeeded in passing a bill to remove the county buildings to their present sites on the two former plazas on lower Broadway. Supervisor Case, however, succeeded in securing at Sacramento a compromise by which the concrete block of land and building which had been for about a year used as a court house in San Antonio, and also secured to the board of supervisors the authority for erecting new county buildings on the two plazas.

A local historian at that period wrote of the closing scene at Sacramento in the long-drawn out county seat controversy.

PRaise CASE. "The praise of Mr. Case, as a man of honor, who had made a gallant fight for his section, and tried to then succeed. He had never broken his promise or violated his word, and all that remained to end the prolonged county seat controversy, to finish this three years' local battle, was the arrangement of the details."

At the conclusion of his term of office as supervisor Case retired from political life. He later was in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company. His son is now a conductor on the Webster-street local line. His wife died many years ago.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Charles A. Belling, the former vice-president of the Bronx bank, was sentenced today by Judge Foster to a term in Sing Sing of not less than one year and three months and not more than nineteen years.

Belling was charged with having forged a check of the Bronx National Bank and sold it to the Knickerbocker Trust Company.

He thought nothing of it for two weeks or more and then his face began to swell. He died of blood poisoning. Captain England was 67 years of age.

GIVES POPULAR GLAMOR SANCTION

Railroad Commissioner Voices His Approval Before U. of C. Students.

BERKELEY, March 3.—That popular clamor should be upheld and encouraged was the statement of Railroad Commissioner John M. Eshleman made before the university students at the fortnightly meeting in Harmon gymnasium this morning.

"There are in the United States today three kinds of statesmen, destructionists, constructionists and reactionists. The destructionists are the class which says there is evil in all popular clamor. They say 'we will burn down the building and uproot its foundations.' The reactionists believe as the destructionists, that there is evil in public clamor, but they will do nothing to correct it. The constructionists, such as Roosevelt, who say that popular clamor should be upheld, but should be educated in the right way."

Prof. Ernest Dannel of the University of Kiel, Kaiser Wilhelm's exchange professor at Columbia university, addressed the meeting briefly, complimenting the students on the ideal location and beauties of the University of California, and on the advantages which they enjoy.

Early morning west bound trains will not pass here until this evening.

The first wreck was a freight train, which went into the ditch near Parker, Ariz. Needles wrecker, which was sent to its assistance, was wrecked by a bad rail joint, near the scene of the first mishap. Then the San Bernardino wrecker was sent for and it jumped the track at Victorville.

No one was injured in any of the three wrecks so far as has been learned.

BRANDENBURG, WAITER, SENTENCED TO SING SING. Brandenburg, the magazine writer. Judge Swann sentenced him to Sing Sing prison for a term of from two years to four years and six months. The defendant almost collapsed when sentenced.

Brandenburg, who was charged with having forged a check for $50 last summer, has figured in court proceedings for the last two years, notably in connection with the sale under false pretenses of an article purporting to have been written by the late Grover Cleveland.

FRISCO AUTO SHOW OPENS TOMORROW

Many Cars New to This Section Will Be Shown; Motor-drome Meet Postponed.

(By J. A. HOULIHAN)

At 7:30 sharp tomorrow evening the San Francisco Automobile Show, which is housed in Pavilion Rink, will open doors to the public with over a half a dozen different makes of cars on the floor. During the last twenty-four hours activities at the pavilion have grown apace. At 11 o'clock this morning the pavilion doors opened to the exhibitors and the placing of cars in the various booths began at once. Among the cars which were waiting to be run into the building when the doors opened were the Flats, which arrived on train from Los Angeles yesterday. These cars were among the latest to reserve exhibiting space and their popularity the world over at once made them among the most discussed of the promised exhibits here.

Another interesting feature was promised for the show when a wire received yesterday afternoon from Sacramento stated that the Amplex racer, which was shipped this morning from the city, would be an exhibit. This car is the same that performed in the recent Panama-Pacific road races. It has also been a prominent contender in a long list of races in different parts of the country this season.

Unusual interest attaches to the show because of the extensive exhibit of cars which have been recently invaded this territory. A great many of these cars have already established a reputation in the East—so much that motor-ing enthusiasts here are more than anxious to see them and compare them with the machines better known on this coast because of their earlier establishment here. A better opportunity for getting a line on these new cars, than that offered by the show, could hardly be found.

The big shipment of White gasoline cars, for which 4000 feet of exhibiting space has been reserved at the show, are due to arrive by special shipment from Chicago today. These cars embrace steam, gasoline pleasure and gasoline truck models. They will make the most extensive display of motor cars ever seen in one booth at an auto show.

MOTORDROME MEET POSTPONED.

The man in the skies, designated to control the season's rain supply, has slipped a cog again, acted untruly during the last few days and brought about last night a decision from the Motor-drome management for a postponement of its races scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

Jack Prince, manager of the speedway, regretted such action and it was only after holding out every hope for good weather yesterday that he came to this decision.

Date has been set, although it is probable that the 11th and 12th of the month will be selected.

NEW MACHINE SHOP HERE.

The United Auto Machine Works, in which Frank Larcher and Joe Gemmell are interested, have opened a shop in the rear of the Melver and Becker establishment.

Both men are motor car experts who have had years of experience and are probably two of the best-known men in their line of work in this city.

A splendidly arranged and well-lighted shop is part equipment of their establishment.

RELATED TO MITCHELL OFFICIAL.

Miss Helen Miles Rogers, whose engagement to Ogden Miles Reid, son of Whitelaw Reid, American ambassador to England, has just been announced, is a sister of G. Vernon Rogers, secretary of the Mitchell-Lewis Motor Company of Racine, Wis., and in charge of the foreign department of the big $10,000,000 corporation, which is said to ship more cars abroad annually than any other American automobile firm.

Miss Rogers, the bride to be, is a graduate of Barnard College and for the past few years she has been secretary to Mrs. Whitelaw Reid in London. Mr. Reid is a graduate of Yale University and the Yale Law School.

The young people are expected to accompany the ambassador and his wife to Europe immediately after their marriage.

The automobile is running the university extension courses and the farmers' institutes a dust-cloud race in all parts of the country. As an educational force, the automobile is better than a seven-to-ten proposition in the three-cornered race. Played straight across the board, the combination spells efficient co-operation and that's about how the auto will chug-chug down the stretch.

"There is a whole lot of talk among real estate brokers and others who have their fingers on the money pulse of the people about the call back to the farm," said Rudolph Schmidl, district manager of Royal Motor Car Company of Chicago, upon his return a few days ago from a long trip into the country districts, lying south of Chicago. "And do you know there is a whole lot of truth in all that talk. Just take a glance at the list of deeds published every morning in the newspapers and satisfy yourself that important realty transactions in farm lands are being closed every day. People want to get away from the cities. Others who own farms are adding to their acres and preparing to move to the coast—ready or not."

BISHOP HARRIS- TO SPEAK HERE

Long-Time Missionary in Korea and Japan Will Relate
His Experiences.

The most widely known American in Japan and Korea, Bishop Merriam C. Harris, is spending a few days in Oakland before sailing for the Orient. Bishop Harris was one of pioneer missionaries to Japan, but for a number of years was superintendent of Japanese missions on the Pacific Coast, so has many friends here, with whom he is now visiting.

After serving in the cavalry through the Civil War, young Harris completed his education, and thirty-eight years ago sailed from San Francisco for Japan. His entire life has been given to the Japanese and Korean people, and few foreigners have ever been more influential or more honored in Japan. Years ago he was raised to the Order of the Sacred Treasure by the Mikado as a recognition of his services.

MIKADO HONORS HIM.

In 1904 he was made missionary bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church for Japan and Korea, and on his return to the Orient that year the Emperor advanced him to the third degree of the Sacred Treasure, making him one of the trusted counselors of the empire. In this way, he not only has the fullest knowledge of the common people, but also government plans and purposes.

A year ago he left the Orient to be present at the great missionary convention in Edinburgh last June. Travelling across Asia and Europe, he was the guest of the Japanese embassies in the chief cities of Europe. From Scotland he came to this country, where he has been speaking on his journey across the continent on Korea, as this is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of missionary work there.

WILL GIVE ADDRESS.

His friends have arranged to have him give an address in the Eighth Ave. Methodist Church, Eighth Avenue and East Seventeenth street, on Friday evening of this week, where those who are interested in the latest developments in these two empires are invited to hear him. He will speak especially on the wonderful spread of Christianity in Korea.

Bishop Harris in his long missionary life has had many thrilling experiences, being many times in danger of his life, but has lived to receive the largest recognition of his services, being the most widely known and most greatly loved foreigner in the new united empire of Japan and Korea.

He is the son of the late Dr. M. S. Vail and family, 1628 Seventh avenue, for a few days before sailing on March 8 for the Orient.

Five Minutes Sometimes Makes A Big Difference

If You are Suffering the Tortures of Indigestion and Have to Wait Until Someone Runs to the Drug Store for a Box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets

Free Trial Package.

The instant relief afforded poor overburdened stomachs by the use of a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet should be a reason for constantly keeping a box on hand—at home and at the office as well.

The Stomach Welcomes Quick Relief.

A Stuart's Tablet not only aids digestion but it actually does the digesting itself. In other words it furnishes exactly the same elements for the digestion of food as the natural juices of the stomach. The stomach, therefore, is not called upon to do any of the work except to churn the juices furnished by the tablet and then push the digested food along into the intestines, where it will be still further digested and the strength taken up by the blood to be carried to the muscles and nerves of the body.

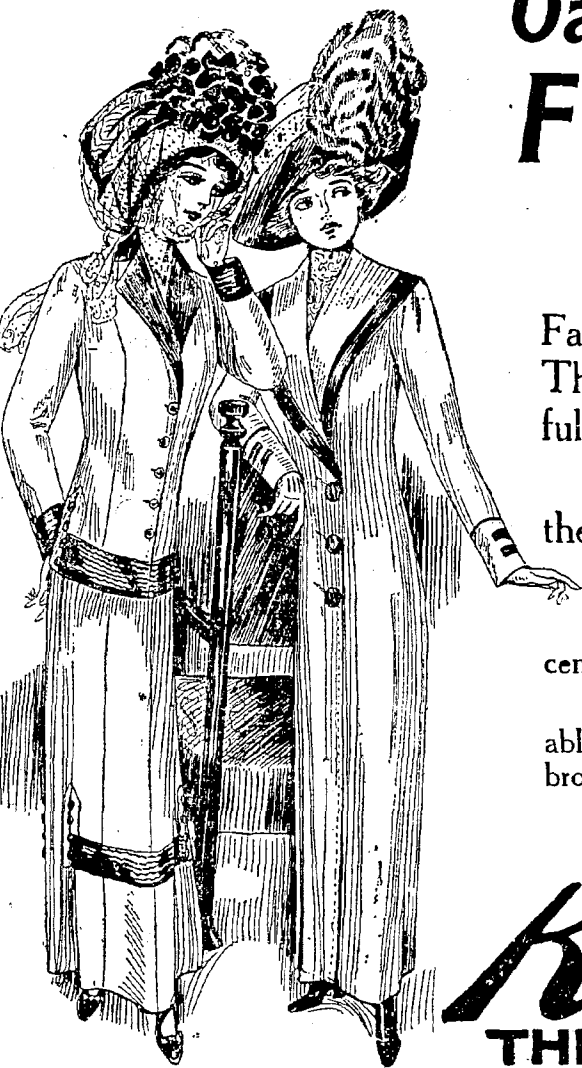

So by taking a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet after a meal you give the stomach the rest it needs in which to mend itself and grow well again. And you absolutely prevent the souring of any food, the formation of any poisonous gases, belching, foul breath or constipation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have done more for humanity and have caused more rejoicing than any other one agency that can be named.

Every druggist everywhere sells and personally recommends Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The price is 50 cents per box. If you wish to try them a sample package will be sent you free if you write to F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

MRS. DRUMMOND FIGHTS FOR HEIRS

Former Mrs. Field and Executors Disagree Over Handing of Fortune.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The publicity attending the theft of $500,000 worth of diamonds and pearls from Mrs. Malvina Drummond, formerly Mrs. Marshall Field Jr., the famous American liner Amerika, has revealed the real reason for the visit of the Drummonds to this country at this particular time.

They came because of a disagreement the former Mrs. Field has had with the guardians of the fortune of $500,000,000 which their grandfather and father left to the latter's two sons, Marshall Field III and Henry Field, and to Gwendolyn Field.

Complete control of this fortune has rested in the hands of the executors of the will of both Fields.

These are Arthur B. Jones and Chauncey Keep of the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company of Chicago and W. C. Beal, an attorney of that city.

These men have ideas of their own on the future of the two young men and their sister, to whom it will all ultimately go. Their ideas are said to be at variance with those of Mrs. Drummond.

THEY WANT CHILDREN ABROAD.

The mail and cables having failed to bring the conflicting parties together, Mrs. Drummond and her husband have come to this country to settle the matter once and for all with the executors.

There was a clause in the Field will that allows the executors to interfere with Mrs. Drummond when her plans for the children do not meet with their approval.

Marshall Field Jr. accidentally killed himself with a revolver in 1905 his widow appeared perfectly satisfied with the will.

Two years later she took her children to Europe, where they entered school. Later the children returned here and the boys were in a school in Massachusetts for some time. They are now in Chicago.

After her marriage in 1908 to Malvina Drummond Mrs. Field conceived the idea of taking her children to England and making that country their home, as it was her own.

She was about to carry out this plan, when the executors objected. They maintain that it was the manifest intention of Marshall Field when he made his will that his grandsons should receive American educations and become American business men.

SEARCH FOR SLAYER FINDS POLICE CHIEF

DANVILLE, Va., March 3.—Found after a search which has extended over a period of thirteen years, Chief of Police R. E. Morris, who for six years has been chief of police here, was arrested as an escaped convict from Georgia and held. When the report of the arrest was made, he admitted that he was Edgar Stribling of Harris county, Ga. Stribling was given a sentence for the murder of William Cornett. He escaped jail through the aid of friends and the rubber stamp on the writ by doctors as means of medical examination, better quarters and food and the abolition of shipping masters.

NICARAGUA TO EXECUTE REBELS

45 Alleged Plotters Against the Estrada Government to Be Shot.

NEW YORK, March 3.—According to cable advices received here from Costa Rica, Dr. Rudolph Pinosa, well known throughout Central America, and forty-four others will be shot by the Estrada government of Nicaragua for alleged complicity in the plot against the administration. No official announcement of the execution has been made and friends of the condemned men fear that the announcement will be delayed until after the executions are accomplished.

The United States Minister to Costa Rica, it is said, has been asked to make official request of President Estrada for definite information of his intentions toward the prisoners and cablegrams will be sent to President Taft and Secretary of State Knox seeking their assistance.

ARMY DESERTER SELLS LIBERTY FOR A MEAL

JOIA, Kas., March 3.—Trading the reward of fifty dollars, offered for his arrest, for a meal, William F. Adams, a deserter from Company L, Thirtieth United States Infantry, last night surrendered to a patrolman here. Adams, according to the army records, deserted from Fort Leavenworth in November of 1907.

Saying he had eaten nothing for three days, he approached a policeman and said: "I'll give you fifty dollars for a square meal."

When the officer offered to buy him food, he told him that he was a deserter and that by arresting him the former could collect the fifty dollars the government offers for the arrest of all deserters.

TO PARADE WITH BIBLE IN HAND

Members of Gideon's Band to March in San Francisco 25,000 Strong.

NEW YORK, March 3.—One hundred thousand bibles have been ordered for general distribution by the Gideons, as the members of the Christian Travelers' Association of America, style themselves. The order is said to be the largest ever placed, and it forms part of a national plan to place a bible in every hotel bedroom in the country.

W. E. Henderson, national secretary of the Gideons, said here today that he had been promised one-fourth of the order for San Francisco and the Pacific Coast. It is planned that the 25,000 bibles, the largest number ever shipped at one time, shall reach San Francisco in time for the triennial convention of the International Sunday School Association, which will be held in the latter part of June.

For every bible there will be a member of the adult bible classes of San Francisco to march through the streets in parade, a Gideon bible in his hand and at the end of the parade the marchers will build their bibles into a gigantic pyramid on the platform of the convention auditorium, there to stand as an object lesson while the convention is in session.

HOBSON AGAIN RENDS AMBIENT

Predicts Japanese Will Stop Work on the Panama Canal.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—"Japan will never permit the United States to finish the Panama Canal," said Representative Hobson of Alabama at the White House yesterday after a visit to the president regarding a matter of southern patronage.

"Every well posted diplomat in the world, every well informed officer of the United States army and navy sees the inevitable," he continued, "while our people plainly disregard the truth in front of their eyes."

Hobson was commenting on the statement of Sir Frederick Villiers, the famous British war correspondent, now in Canada, that this country was standing on a volcano in disregarding preparations for a war with Japan.

SUPPOSITION ABSURD!

"Does anybody suppose that Japan will stand by and see the Panama gateway to the Pacific Coast opened by the United States?" asked Hobson. "Long before the canal is finished Japan will find an excuse for making trouble. Then will come the flash, the sudden attack and disaster to the United States on every side."

"No one can foresee the ultimate outcome except that finally the real patriotism of the country will be aroused in spite of the terrific pressure, from the business interests of the United States and the world, and the tide then may change."

"With our fleets gone and Japanese war vessels tending guard over our coasts to prevent the construction of more vessels to continue the fight, the awful pressure from the business world to stop the contest can be withstood only by the patriotism that will show among the southern, western and northwestern people."

SAN LEANDRO LAD SERIOUSLY HURT

Jas. Dowd Falls From Bridge, Sustaining Possibly Fatal Injuries.

SAN LEANDRO, March 3.—James Dowd, the 15-year-old son of Frank C. Dowd, who resides at 2383 Davis street, San Leandro, fell from the high bridge which spans San Leandro creek in the rear of his home this morning, and received injuries from which he may die more than half an hour after his fall. The young Dowd lay unconscious at the bottom of the deep ravine while his mother searched frantically throughout the neighborhood for him. Failing to find him in the streets or at the homes of his other boy friends, she returned to her home.

Going out on the rear porch she happened to look over the bank and saw the boy lying in a heap near the bottom. Without waiting for help she slid down the bank and carried her son to the house, where a physician was called. It was found that the youngster was suffering from a broken leg and possible internal injuries.

LIVERMORE MERCHANTS FORM AN ASSOCIATION

LIVERMORE, March 3.—With the adoption of a constitution and a set of by-laws similar to that of Vacaville, the representative business men of Livermore took the initial step last night in the forming of an organization, to be known as the Livermore Merchants' Association. Owing to the rainy weather and the muddy condition of the roads many of the would-be members from out-of-town failed to make their appearance and the election of officers was postponed until next Tuesday.

URGE RAILROADS TO HASTEN WORK

Fruitvale Board of Trade Anxious to See W. P. and S. P. Improvements Done.

FRUITVALE, March 3.—A committee consisting of A. A. Lonsback, Henry Barkmeyer and C. Jameson, was appointed to draw up resolutions to the Southern Pacific and the Western Pacific railroads at the meeting of the Fruitvale Board of Trade last night, requesting them to hurry their improvements along the southern part of the town. To the Western Pacific, a request for them to open up their station for passengers directed as soon as possible was given to the district freight and passenger agent. A request that they lay new sidewalks around their station building and help improve that part of town was also prepared by the committee.

In answer to the communications received from the business men, the members of the Board drew up a resolution to the Southern Pacific Railroad asking them to hasten the erection of their new freight station, the three-acre tract of land which was recently bought by them. On request of the editor of the "Flame," the John C. Fremont High school publication, the business men made a provision in the new ruling in regard to advertising in church and social programs, in which they will recall their action against advertising in the school paper. Many of the citizens deem it right to help the pupils along with their publication.

RUNS AMUCK AND WOUNDS OFFICIAL

Furniture in Doctor's Office Is Smashed by Point Richmond Carpenter.

POINT RICHMOND, March 3.—Police-man Charles Walker was shot three times in the leg, yesterday, by Henry Falster, a carpenter of this place who, while under the influence of liquor resisted arrest for more than half an hour when Walker tried to take him into custody for having demolished the furnishings and interior of the residence of Dr. W. B. Riley.

The trouble grew out of a feud which has existed for more than a year between Dr. Riley and the carpenter, who is a near neighbor, and who has lately caused much trouble to the physician. While intoxicated today Falster went to the Riley home, after openly declaring that he was "going to get" the physician.

SMASHES FRONT DOOR.

Falster smashed the front door in and searched the house for his enemy. Unable to find him, he devoted his energies to breaking up the furniture, throwing valuable medicines on the floor and demolishing the interior. Riley telephoned for the police and Patrolman Walker was dispatched to the Fifth-street house. Falster, on returning home, barricaded the front door and windows and Walker was unable to enter. He went to the back of the house, knowing that Falster was inside. As he turned the corner of the building into the yard he was greeted with two shots from a repeating shotgun in the hands of Falster, who was concealed in a shed.

Walker sought cover around the corner of the house, but returned to the attack with his revolver and opened fire on the shed. Falster fired another shot, but Walker did not stop. At the officer's continued advance, Falster came out of his hiding place, dropped his gun and surrendered.

HAYWARD PROUD OF ITS PROGRESS

More Than $150,000 to Be Spent on Parking Alone.

HAYWARD, March 3.—With a record of more than $107,633 expended for buildings during the year 1910, with $150,000 to be spent on the parking of the new residence district, with the franchise for a new electric road to open up a new section to the east of this city, already bought by L. B. Parsons, and with street work exceeding $150,000 in value under way, Hayward has named itself the most progressive town in the State. The development of Hayward for the past year has been a remarkable one and has attracted much attention. In its vicinity has grown up a poultry industry which threatens the reputation of Petaluma, which has been an enviable one for many years.

The successful carrying of the school bond for $1500 for the erection of a new grammar school and the proposed bond issue to be called for by the members of the high school board, will place Hayward far in the head of the list with educational progress. The Ora Loma and the B. Street Improvement clubs have launched a campaign for beautifying the foothill boulevard by tree-planting.

PAVING PLANS. Plans are already under way for the paving of B street, from Watkins to Alice, Commercial and C streets, A from Castro to the Western Pacific, and also from Main to First. The delinquent tax list in Hayward last year amounted to but $10.50. The loss by fire during the year amounted to $310.

Russell city, a suburb of Hayward, is planning the erection of a modern auditorium for meeting purposes of the Civic Club and entertainments. In addition to the handsome buildings now under way, including the $300,000 national bank building, three new brick blocks are to be erected, two on B street and one, a garage at First and B streets.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

'LOVE' AMBIGUOUS, DECLARES RICH SOCIALIST

William Walling Says He Had No Soul in Affections for Girl.

NEW YORK, March 2.—"Love? That is the most ambiguous term in the English language," declared William E. Walling, the wealthy Socialist, when asked pointblank if he ever loved Anna Grunspan, who is suing him for $100,000 for alleged breach of promise.

After considerable effort to arrive at a complete definition of the word the defendant declared that "soul" was lacking in his attachment for the plaintiff.

He endured with embarrassment the ordeal of hearing many of his letters read in court and he strongly objected to some of the translations made from the French. In one letter he compared Miss Grunspan to Milton's poetic contessas, "L'Allegro" and "Il Penseroso," because she was "glad and sad" by turns. Walling said that at that time he did not know what love really meant.

"You have undergone change?" he was asked.

"A revolution," Walling answered.

"A Russian revolution?" asked the lawyer.

"I do not care to drag any one else into this affair," the witness said firmly.

His wife, who was Miss Anna Strunsky, is a Russian.

Women Accuse 'Baron'

NEW YORK, March 3.—Richard von Arkov, alleged scion of a notable Hungarian house and crony of Lord Decies, "Bobbo" Beresford, Lord Cameros and others of noble birth, left a prison cell and returned to his apartments in the Hotel Plaza early last evening in anything but a pleasant state of mind.

Being arrested charged with the theft of two crucifixes, valued at $900, from Julio Sorenson Jorin, a Cuban diplomat, and having to languish in jail until $4000 bail could be secured, bereft the "Baron" of his usual air.

Two new complainants, Mme. Joanne Charon, a French music teacher, and Bella Blings, stated that they desired to have the Baron prosecuted for swindling them by appropriating money and pawnbroking their jewelry.

"Then the Hungarian consulate declared that the 'Baron' had no claim whatever to nobility."

'Vocal Aristocracy'

TORONTO, March 3.—Mme. Luisa Tetrazzini is advocating the production of a "vocal aristocracy" by the intermarriage of the world's greatest singers for the express purpose of developing musical artists. She gave her views on the subject in an interview.

"Singers should marry singers," said Mme. Tetrazzini, "in order that, after several generations, the very essence of music shall flow through the veins of the children bred and educated in this ideal environment."

It is so that the dancers of Europe are recruited. The famous musicians, the Bachs of Germany, the Strausses and others are brought to excellence by just such a plan of marriage.

"In this way we would breed a race far surpassing in purity and brilliancy of tone the singers of today."

Will Marry Pupil

SALT LAKE, Utah, March 3.—George A. Eaton, principal of the Salt Lake High school, whose age is 43 years, and Miss Edith Acheson, one of the high school pupils, whose age is 18, are to be married soon after the school year. The announcement of the engagement was made by the principal or Mr. Acheson, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Acheson, who are socially prominent here.

Professor Eaton is one of the best-known educators in this section of the country. When he appeared at the high school after the news became known he was the recipient of a demonstration on the part of the pupils. His bride-elect was not in the least daunted by the publicity. She remained away because "it would only cause more talk."

Aid for Old Maids

ST. PAUL, March 3.—The legislature of Minnesota is seriously considering a bill to impose a tax of $5 annually upon all male persons above the age of 30 years who are unmarried, or who cannot prove that they are persons of such moral character as to be unfit for marriage. It is designed to use the money collected by this "male poll tax" for the support of indigent spinners, if the bill is passed.

Death Ends Romance

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 3.—Beyond the brief announcement of his death, the family here of William Avery Grippin, multi-millionaire malleable iron magnate, failed to receive any particulars of his death. His death occurred Tuesday in the Grand Canyon of Arizona, where he and his young bride were spending their honeymoon. The first word of his death came in a telegram received here today.

Mr. Grippin, whose net worth is estimated at upward of $20,000,000, married as his second wife Miss Minnie L. Tilton of New Haven, on November 22 last.

Singer to Wed

NEW YORK, March 3.—The engagement of Miss Mabel Clyde, second daughter of Dr. John R. Sherman, held with-out bail for killing his brother-in-law and Miss Cleo D. Lucas. Earlier in the week Dr. Sherman procured a license and solemnized the wedding party, including Mrs. Thomas D. Norman, wife of the man Sherman is charged with killing, appeared at the jail, attendance was refused on instructions from the attorney general.

Slayer Tries to Wed

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 3.—Only the interference of the state attorney general prevented the marriage in jail of Dr. John R. Sherman, held without bail for killing his brother-in-law and Miss Cleo D. Lucas. Earlier in the week Dr. Sherman procured a license and solemnized the wedding party, including Mrs. Thomas D. Norman, wife of the man Sherman is charged with killing, appeared at the jail, attendance was refused on instructions from the attorney general.

Boer War Heroine Visits

LADY SARAH WILSON, Boer War heroine, who is now on a visit to this country.

NEW YORK.—Lady Sarah Wilson, who is known as the Boer war heroine, is on a visit to this country. Lady Wilson knows much more of life than the side seen at the court of Great Britain for she has made four trips to South Africa. During the Boer war, when she accompanied her husband, Colonel Gordon Wilson, to the front, she acquitted herself with such courage that the government decorated her with the Order of the Red Cross, and gave her a medal for attempting to pass through the Boer lines with messages.

Colonel Wilson was second in command to General Sir Robert Baden-Powell at the siege of Mafeking, and in the siege Lady Wilson cared for the wounded under fire.

Twice during the war she was captured by the Boers. After the war she returned to Africa with a party on a hunting expedition and killed big game. Lady Sarah is a daughter of the seventh Duke of Marlborough, a sister of the late Lord Randolph Churchill, and an aunt of Winston Churchill, Secretary of State for the Home Department. She does not believe in militant suffragism.

Woman Rides on Elephant

CALCUTTA.—Much interest was aroused the other day when a lady rode through the streets on an elephant. A spectacle such as this is rarely seen in Calcutta, as elephants are not allowed in the city without special permission, and when they appear traffic has to be stopped for them. The animal was ridden by Lady Creagh, wife of the Indian commander-in-chief, General Sir O'Moore Creagh. Her ladyship expressing a desire to ride an elephant, General Creagh borrowed one from the Maharajah of Burmah. It was brought specially to Calcutta from Turkestan, thirty-six miles away. Lady Creagh, with a special police escort, rode at a stately pace from the Howrah bridge to the fort, while the traffic stopped.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

Arrangements for the first aeroplane contest to be given by the members of the Boys' and Girls' Association, in the Association building, tomorrow afternoon, have been completed. Many machines will be entered.

Announcement has been made by Mr. Caldwell of the Boys' department of the Young Men's Christian Association that there will be a meeting for the benefit of the boys from 14 years of age to 18.

J. E. Sprunger of Los Angeles, state field secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, will be the speaker on that occasion. The meeting will be held at 3:15 Sunday afternoon, and an interesting hour is anticipated.

STUDENTS WORK HARD TO BOOST BIG BOND ISSUE

The students' association of the Manual Training and Commercial High school is becoming a powerful organization and has pledged itself to work zealously for the bonds for the new high school. As soon as the date for the school election is announced the members of the association will make a canvass of the different wards of this city, where they will boost the issue.

Frank Carson is the president of the association and Edward Eichler is the auditor.

my tale of woe, he armed with a hatchet, went into my room with me, carefully put up the blind and as I was hiding my face, waiting for him to strike the fatal blow, I heard him sit down and begin to laugh real hearty. I told him if that was the way he killed a rattlesnake I would call some one who had more sense. He said: "Why, that rattlesnake is stone dead. Look at it." I turned and found to my embarrassment that it was a skipping rope I had carelessly thrown over the chandelier the evening before.

Original Stories By Young Authors

(BY EDDYTH JACKSON.)

One summer, about four years ago, while spending my vacation in a part of the country where rattlesnakes are real common, a funny incident happened to me of which I am going to tell you.

Awaking at about 5 o'clock one morning, I started to get up, for a party was going on a picnic that day. But I soon crawled back into bed very quietly and lay gazing to a part of the room where I saw a rattlesnake coiled on the chandelier. "Yes, it must be asleep," thought I, "for it is not moving."

I lay as long as I could, wondering how I could get out of the door (to call for help) without passing near the chandelier. I knew I couldn't, so what should I do?

I finally decided to be brave and slipping on my long dressing gown, cautiously slipped to the room next to mine where I knew a gentleman of our party was sleeping.

Willing to Wed, But Refused to Obey Hubby

KANSAS CITY.—For years Charles Gillette courted Mrs. Laura Cassill. They decided to end it in marriage. So they went to the home of Harry Hall, marriage license clerk, for the license.

Mr. Hall called Judge Casimir Welch to perform the ceremony. Mrs. Gillette held Mr. Cassill's hand. The judge began the binding sentences.

"Will you take this woman to be your lawful wedded wife, to love and cherish?" Judge Welch repeated.

"I do," Mr. Gillette answered.

"Will you take this man to be your lawful wedded husband, to love, honor and obey?"

"Obey him? Him? No, sir," Mrs. Cassill interrupted with emphasis.

The judge hesitated.

"You won't obey him, you say, Mrs. Cassill?" he asked.

TORE UP THE LICENSE.

"No, I won't obey that man."

"Then this marriage is off," Judge Welch announced.

The clerk looked at the judge. The judge looked at the clerk. Then the license was torn up by the clerk. Judge Welch reached for his hat and coat. Then the bride-to-be realized what was happening.

"But I want to marry this man, judge. Marry us."

Mrs. Cassill was almost pleading now, but it was too late. Judge Welch stepped into his motor car and drove away. "If you want to get married here," said Judge Welch, as he left, "you'll have to be married in proper form."

THOUGHT HE WAS MARRIED.

"She's a good woman and I'm glad it's over," Mr. Gillette said later in the night. "I'm married to her. Of course she's my wife. That judge didn't have any business saying we were not married."

After the refusal of the judge to finish the ceremony, Mr. Gillette took his intended to her room at 903 Wyandotte street. He went across the street to his room in the Orient Hotel. He was quite happy about it, but she looked the door of her room and said she wanted to think it over. Mr. Gillette insisted they were married even when friends tried to explain.

Death Passes Them in Great Snowstorm

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y.—Caught between two fast moving trains, Mrs. Carrie Whitmore and Miss Lella Ward, sisters, narrowly escaped death at the Harding street crossing of the Erie Railroad here.

A blinding snowstorm prevailed, and the young women carried an umbrella in front of them. They were walking between the east and west-bound tracks when a fast train came up behind them. The driving wheels of the locomotive tore the umbrella out of Mrs. Whitmore's hands and brushed the dresses of both. They were motionless with terror, which saved their lives, for at the same instant an express train rushed by them in the opposite direction.

INDUSTRIAL WORKERS REJOICE AT THEIR VICTORY OVER FRESNO

PHILIPPINE OFFICERS CLEARED

Majority and Minority Reports Unite in Exoneration of Accused.

No Irregularity Attaches to the Sale of Friar Lands in Islands.

WASHINGTON, March 3. — Complete exoneration of the officers of the Philippine Islands government of all charges of irregularities or improprieties in connection with the administration, sales or lease of lands in the Philippine Islands, and yet on the other hand pointed criticisms of the inadequacy of the present laws to prevent monopolies in what are known as the "friar lands," are expressed in both the majority and minority reports of the house committee on insular affairs submitted to the house today.

The charge made on the floor of the house a year ago by Representative Martin of Colorado, that the so-called sugar trust had acquired 56,000 acres of the "friar lands" led to an investigation of the entire question of administration of public lands as well as "friar lands."

HAVE POINTS IN COMMON.

Both reports concur in the opinion that the organic act of 1902, in limiting individuals to 40 acres and corporations to 2500 acres in the amount of public land that may be acquired, does not impose the same restrictions on the disposition of the "friar lands."

The majority report argues that as a practical expedient the "friar lands" should be disposed of in larger quantities to attract buyers, while the minority claim that the sale of "friar lands" in large tracts may develop a system of absentee landlordism as obnoxious to the Philippines as that of the friars against whom they once rebelled.

The latter also suggest that a friendly proceeding be begun in the courts by the officers of the Philippine government to determine the exact legal status of the "friar lands."

Berkeley Society to Take Up Fancy Dancing

Stender Figure and Perfect Poise Are Being Sought

Fifty Berkeley society matrons and the younger society maidens are sighing for the suppleness of figure and the syphilic outlines that will enable them to glide gracefully into any drawing room, and have enrolled themselves in a dancing class, where fancy dancing and hygienic exercises will be taken up with a vim.

Mrs. Olita Lunt Youngberg, whose methods the hygienic instructor of the University of California is advocating, will direct the intricacies of the classic art, and the deeper mystery of losing weight.

The class will meet for the initial time Tuesday morning at the Hill-side club from 10:30 to 11:30 o'clock. The devotees will give an hour every Tuesday to the terpsichorean art.

Many club and society women of Alameda also practice daily in fantastic gyrations, twirls of a complicated design, and ardent exercises destined to effect a fawn-like slenderness. Among the Alamedans who attend the weekly dancing class are Mrs. W. H. L. Lynes, Mrs. Herbert Page, Mrs. Juliet Van Grunt, Mrs. Felix Santalier, Mrs. Jules Almon, the Misses Alexina Mitchell, Minnie Jacob, Marguerite Carpenter, Rose Sherwood, Isabel Sherwood, Leta McCartney and Hazel Holt.

Man Who Hoisted First Flag at Monterey Is Dead

SANTA MONICA, Cal., March 3.—John Spencer, the last survivor of the crew of the United States Frigate Savannah which hoisted the first American flag in Monterey, California, in 1818, died today at the National Soldiers' Home in Santele, at the age of 97 years.

Spencer was in Honolulu 50 years ago and enlisted as a seaman on the Savannah in order to get to his home in Connecticut. The Savannah proceeded to Mazatlan, Mexico, where it was ordered to the California coast to co-operate in the war with Mexico.

Spencer was one of a landing party sent ashore at Monterey by Commodore Slout of the Savannah to haul down the Mexican flag and hoist the stars and stripes.

SUNDY CIVIL BILL PASSES SENATE

Weary Eyed Solons Face Measure Appropriating $142,702,094.

Stone Willing to Let Things Go Ahead Without Another Filibuster.

WASHINGTON, March 3. — The sundy civil bill was passed today by the senate at 1:50 p. m.

The senate defeated, by a vote of 43 to 40, an amendment to the sundy bill offered by Senator Culberson, providing that the tariff bureau must report to Congress by the first Monday in December, 1911, on iron and steel, cotton and cotton manufactures and wool and woolen manufactures.

WASHINGTON, March 3. — An even score of weary-eyed Senators faced Vice-President Sherman when, at 10 o'clock, he called the senate together. Adjournment had been taken at 4 o'clock this morning.

Among those present were Senators Hale and Stone. They greeted each other pleasantly. Hale was anxious to begin the consideration of the great sundy civil bill and to this end sought to have the formal reading of yesterday's journal dispensed with.

"I object," said the leader of yesterday's filibuster. Hale appealed to him but apparently in vain.

PLEADS WITH HIM.

"Won't the senator let us get this formally out of the way so we can go on with the appropriations?" he pleaded.

"I have no objection except that I think we should have a quorum before we proceed with the appropriations," responded the Missouri senator.

"Let the journal reading go no for the present."

A few minutes later he relented, withdrew his objections and the further reading was dispensed with. Immediately the reading of the sundy civil bill was begun. It proved a formidable document of 236 pages and carrying $142,702,094.

"Do you think you are going to get all the appropriation bills through?" Hale was asked.

"We will if they do not filibuster," he said. "But at this stage of a proceeding one senator could easily prevent such success. There are still four appropriation bills to be passed by the senate. They are the sundy civil bill, the tariff bill, the general deficiency bill and the largest and most important of the supply measures and to get them through we must have an unobstructed right of way."

Mr. Stone was questioned along different lines.

BELIEVES IT ALL OVER.

"Is it all over?" he was asked. "One cannot well stand in the way of the appropriation bills," he replied, "but there is still much to do to get through."

"How about the agreement reached early this morning to vote on the tariff bill tomorrow at 2-3?"

"Well, you see a man cannot go on forever. But the bill was so amended that it will be necessary for the house to act on it again and the boys over there ought to be able to take care of it if they don't want it."

BEVERIDGE HOPEFUL.

Senator Beveridge was among the early arrivals. He was hopeful over the prospect for the tariff bill and was confident under the favorable citations of his friends over the success of his parliamentary tactics in getting the vote agreement.

The senate agreed to the house provision of $3,000,000 in the sundy civil bill for beginning the work of fortifying the Panama canal.

The senate adopted an amendment offered by Senator Culberson, cutting down the house appropriation of $400,000 to continue the work of the temporary tariff board to $200,000 and making the amount available only for the fiscal year, 1912.

An amendment making conditional appropriations for the permanent tariff board in the event of its establishment by law was offered by Senator Cummings and adopted.

PROTEST SCHOOL HEALTH BOARD

Parent - Teachers' Association Brands Assembly Bills as Unfair.

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—The Los Angeles Federation of Parent-Teachers Associations today unanimously adopted resolutions protesting against senate bill 733 and assembly bill 864 now pending in the legislature in which provision is made for the establishment of a state bureau of health to be operated in connection with the public school system.

The resolutions recite that "their enactment into law would deprive parents of public school children of their inherent and constitutional right to provide the school of medicine, or system of healing of their choice."

"These measures are not being urged by popular demand but by private interest, and involve the unnecessary expenditure of money."

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Col. Kowalsky is a portly gentleman. The fame of the great chair which he has occupied during the hearing in the Julius Friedman case has traveled far, but who would have thought that it should reach stockton? However, Mrs. H. A. Fisher, who appeared in court today in the matter of the guardianship of F. H. Prince, looked around for it. She first sized up the other seats and then inquired for the chair which she had heard so much about. It creaked under her weight, and in comment upon it she said:

"I am delighted to think I have sat in the big chair of a big man only to find that it's not big enough for me."

COTTONWOOD, Cal., March 3. — The Industrial Workers of the World whose destination is Fresno, left here today for Red Bluff. The town hall was given to them for a lodging place last night and they cooked their own meals in a vacant restaurant.

The entire band was offered work yesterday by a power company at Anderson, six miles north of here, but all declined and the railroad police forced them to move on.

Twenty-eight Industrial Workers of the World had been released from the county jail up to the noon hour today. This is exclusive of the thirty-seven released yesterday.

BASEBALL MAGNATES TO FIGHT GAMBLING SYNDICATE TO LAST DITCH

NO CHANCE FOR OAKLAND AND BOSTON TO PLAY BALL

Everybody Willing Enough, but Weather Man Refused to Keep Clouds Away

By BERT LOWRY.

This afternoon was again too damp for the Sox to look up with the Seals over in San Francisco, so the boys just sat around and told yarns of the ball field. Maybe tomorrow will be brighter and then the visitors will cavort on the diamond across the bay, coming back to Oakland on Sunday morning.

Well, we didn't see the Red Sox after all. The weather man still had the hard feelings toward our old townsman, "Tip" O'Neill, and the continued inclemency of the weather made it impossible for the Oaks and Sox to come together in what promised to be the opening game of the baseball season on this side of the bay.

The unsettled conditions that prevailed yesterday afternoon made it necessary to call off the proposed game. Both teams were on hand ready to start the fray, but at 3 o'clock the infield was too sloppy for the comfort of the men, so there was nothing doing.

Then tomorrow if possible the Boston Speed Boys will again play San Francisco and likewise on Sunday afternoon. If there is a streak of sunshine the rest of the week and Sunday morning comes bright and warm the Oakland fans can look for a battle between our pennant possibilities and those that will battle for a berth on the roster of John I. Taylor's Red Sox.

NO PRACTICE FOR EITHER OAKS OR SEALS.

Neither the locals nor the men from over the bay had an opportunity to go through the stunt of practicing yesterday.

Five of the Crack Youngsters That Make Up the Dewey School Baseball Team.

DIAMOND GOSSIP

Manager Patsy Donovan wasn't puffed the least bit because it rained, but he was disappointed. "That royal reception you folks of Oakland tendered myself and my club this morning was indeed gratifying and it cheered my lads up to a great extent, for they at once saw that they were more than welcomed and wanted to return the compliment by showing you what they could do." "For all of that the Sox will be here for four weeks almost yet and in that time we hope to show the baseball loving people that the Boston Red Sox are some baseball team and appreciate your kindnesses to them."

Poor Norris, his troubles are many. Up to the last minute yesterday the high rain of the Western League was hopeful that the clouds would roll away and that it would be possible to play ball. "There I am, up against it for fair. The folks back east took my word for it that there wouldn't be a drop of rain in Oakland and here it is throwing me down."

Funny ain't it that our usually sunshine weather should get a grouch on like that. Still there are other days and before the Sox leave here every one of them will come and say, "Norris, this is sure some grand town for climate, etc., etc."

First baseman Don Cameron has not surrendered as yet. In his statement to one of the club officials he said that he wasn't repeating because he had a grouch by any means. Cameron is emphatic in his declaration that he is for Pyl first, last and all the time and would be highly pleased to see the big fellow make the team.

"Oakland has treated me right," says Don, and I want to see them win all the time.

Young Teldeman of the Oaks is reported as gunning for one of the catches for saying that he was a "sea cow." The Alameda husky has the wrong dope.

BERKELEY BOAT ANGELS LOOM UP RACE TO BE HELD ON ESTUARY

Indications which will point to the crew possibilities for the ensuing season can be gathered at the Berkeley boat race which will take place tomorrow morning on the Oakland estuary. Not since 1908 have the class eights been pitted against one another, and the scheduled contest of tomorrow will go a long way toward the permanent establishment of rowing as an intercollegiate sport.

With the variety and freshness intercollegiate races only six weeks away, a good line can be drawn on the prospects for a Blue and Gold sweep of both events. Strict training and able coaching will be the order of things until April 26, when the Berkeley crew will take the college followers of rowing may gain a definite idea of just what the crew squads have been doing, and what may be expected of the variety elicits in the intercollegiate. The Park-street bridge affords an excellent view of the entire mile course, which will extend from near Alameda Boat Club, past the finish at the bridge. Those who plan making the trip down to the estuary will find it easiest to transfer to the Alameda car at Thirteenth and Broadway, Oakland, and get off at the Park-street bridge.

The 1911 crew looks best on paper. With five last year's Boat Club veterans in the senior shell, the opposition boat will have to extend themselves to keep within distance. However, the chances are good for a surprise, and it is doubtful if the winner will cross the finish line more than a length ahead of the runner-up.

No practice was held yesterday, as the water was too rough for the shells. The Berkeley crew is working out this morning, however, in order to get in the full amount of training before tomorrow. The first and second year eights will row off their race at 10 o'clock, followed 20 minutes later by the junior and senior contest. The winning boats of each crew will pull off the finals at 10:45. The spectators are thus assured three races, any one of which will be worth while going to see.

No change has been made in the men who will row for their respective classes, and the personnel which was printed yesterday is authentic.

MANAGER M'CREDIE IS WELL PLEASED WITH BEAVERS

SANTA MARIA, March 3.—Walter McCredie's 1911 Beavers have been here for about a week, and have managed to get in a little practice each day, though consistent work has been impossible because of the heavy rain and cold winds. McCredie, the manager, is well pleased with the team. He has appointed captain of the champion club in a few days, for McCredie thinks highly of the former Pittsburg third sacker, who will undoubtedly report here in a few days, for friends of McCredie from Los Angeles have informed the northern manager that the former Cleveland is about ready to capitulate and join the squad here.

At any rate McCredie is losing no sleep over him, for Will Rogers is showing so much speed and playing ability that McCredie thinks him capable of playing second base in the event Ball continues to hold out.

Walter Kuhn, the Fresno redhead, promises to usurp Gus Fisher's place in all departments of back stopping, as he can hit the ball as well as old Fisher. Another California boy who is showing surprising form in the Beavers' camp is Jack Russell, a big right handed pitcher from Alameda. Russell is a husky young fellow and possesses the nerve to make him a successful twirler in this league.

While Frank Archer, the Davenport rector, and the only left hander in McCredie's squad of twirlers has not shown much, it seems that additional avoirdupois was what this twirler was in need of, for he is showing more signs of life right now than he has for two seasons. Seaton formerly was a lazy, slow going fellow, but not now. Tom was married last summer, and the changed state of existence seems to have taught him a lesson, and he is now showing real interest in the game of baseball.

Bill Steen is in better shape than when he reported last spring. He joined McCredie at Portland only a few days before the Portland manager left for this place, and had spent almost the entire winter with a surveying party on the Siletz Indian reservation in western Oregon. The outdoor life and work of running a surveying party has done him good, and he is physically better fit to pitch baseball than any one in the camp with the possible exception of Seaton, who hustled baggage and freight for the Wells Fargo company at Tacoma all winter.

As Artie Krueger was the superior to Billy Seas as an outer gardener, so is Chester Chadbourne the superior of George Ort, for McCredie's new right fielder is one of the best minor league ball players in the game. He is a speedy player and one of the fastest men on the bases ever seen on the coast. He will lead off for Portland this year. With Chadbourne, Ryan and Krueger in the outfield, McCredie figures that he has the best outfield in the league.

Elmer Kostler, the former Angel twirler, will report here Monday or Tuesday, as he left his eastern home last Wednesday.

LISTEN, BLÖT HAS BIG PURSE FOR MORAN AND WOLGAST.

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Promoter Louis Blot, who has returned from the scene of his new arena near Tia Juana, Mexico, and to the city of Los Angeles, has secured a permit to hold the gross receipts, for a forty-five round battle between Wolgast and Moran, for the world's light-eight championship. Blot, who has secured a permit to hold ring battles in Mexico, plans to send the two rival lightweights together on the afternoon of next July 4th. He has already planned a new arena to be erected at Tia Juana, a few miles south of San Diego.

BALL GAME GAMBLERS MUST BE HARD FOUGHT

These Parasites Would Soon Put National Pastime in Down and Out Club

By EDDIE SMITH.

During the past week there has been a persistent rumor traveling broadcast over the country to the effect that a syndicate of gamblers had determined to try their hand on baseball betting. At first little attention was given to the talk of Dame Rumor, but when a book was opened on the probable winner of the 1911 pennant flags in both the National and American Leagues the big moguls of baseball realized they had a fight on their hands.

They were suddenly awakened to the fact that there was a snake in the grass which would bite and poison them were it allowed to grow unmolested. Gambling in the form of betting has been the curse of professional sports since their inception and now that betting has almost entirely been eliminated on boxing contests and the horse race game has become a thing of the past in most every city of note in the country, the gambler turns his attention to the one game that stands out most prominently for its honesty.

The man who is the professional bettor has no love for the game on which he chances his money; it is purely and simply a business proposition, and the business method is not often of the highest standard.

LEAGUES WILL FIGHT HARD.

In order that the situation may be met and fought in its infancy the members of the national baseball commission will meet in Cincinnati next week and the fight on the gamblers will be opened at once.

Both Chairman Herrmann and President Ban Johnson have openly declared war on the gamblers and both are ready for the fight that is sure to come. In this, the men in whose hands the destiny of baseball rests are showing excellent judgment, for it would be but a few years before baseball would fall by the wayside and its great popularity would be a thing of the past.

The reason for this would be the fixing of games and the suspicion that many were fixed which were not.

It is often argued that baseball game cannot be fixed to make it a certainty that the team will lose. Betting would contaminate players. That is very true, but a few players on a team can fix matters so that it makes it mighty hard for the team on which they are playing to win.

The gambler may lose once in a while on a crooked game, but the percentage of wins will always be with the fellow on the inside, and that is sufficient cause for the purchasing of players.

Don't for one moment believe that a great many players cannot be handled by the men who make a business of gambling their money on sure things or on games where they have an ace in the hole, either.

BASEBALL HAD TROUBLES ONCE BEFORE.

Not so many years ago in San Francisco we were cursed with the open betting on ball games when Herman Kaiser had the privilege of making a book at the baseball grounds.

At the time THE TRIBUNE took a hand in the fight made to oust the gamblers and we said at that time that certain players had been reached by the gambling element at the games.

We now reiterate what we then said, and if there is any doubt as to the truth of the assertion we still stand ready to prove what we say.

We at that time told of how the games were fixed in the rear room of an Eldy-street saloon, and although we withheld the names of the men connected with the deal the challenge of the truth regarding the fixing of games was never made.

Ball players are the same as men in the other walks of life; certain ones could not be bought for a fortune, but others are for sale at the right price.

GAMBLERS ALWAYS FIND A WAY.

Gamblers always find a way to meet that price and within five years baseball would be a thing of the past as a popular sporting pastime for ladies and gentlemen.

The national commission has decided to fight the bettors none too soon, and for our part we wish them the greatest of success.

$1,000,000 FOR A GOOD STOMACH

This Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspapers and medical journals have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable. His misfortune could serve as a warning to others. Everyone who suffers from dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices. There is one element missing—Pepsin. The absence of this destroys the function of the gastric fluids. They lose their power to digest food.

We are now able to supply the Pepsin in a form almost identical with that naturally created by the system when in normal health, so that it restores to the gastric juices their digestive power, and thus makes the stomach strong and well.

We want everyone troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia to come to our store and obtain a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. They contain Bismuth-Sub-nitrate and Pepsin prepared by a process which develops the greatest power to overcome digestive disturbances.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are very pleasant to take. They soothe the irritable, weak stomach, strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, relieve nausea and indigestion, promote nutrition and bring about a feeling of comfort.

It gave him powerful nerve tonics and reasonable trial we will return your money if you are not satisfied with the result. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at the Owl Drug Co., Inc., 19th and Washington, 13th and Broadway, 16th and San Pablo.

JAPANESE AND CHINESE RIOT

Antung-Mukden Railroad Belt
Scene of Turbulence
and Death.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 3.—News of serious rioting in the Antung-Mukden railroad belt, following the arrest of some Chinese by Japanese railway guards, was brought by the Empress of India last night. The Chinese police, leading a band of rioters, attacked the jail at Kiatow, where the prisoners were held, and released them, killing several Japanese and wounding others, among them being eleven women. Five Chinese were wounded. The following day an attempt was made to wreck a train on the Antung-Mukden line near the scene of the riot.

The Japanese consul general at Mukden has demanded compensation from the Chinese authorities.

BAIL JUMPER ARRESTED IN KANSAS CITY HOTEL

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 3.—Edward J. Ryan, a graduate of Michigan University, track athlete and civil engineer, who recently forfeited bond of $1000 in the United States courts, was arrested at a hotel in this city last night. For two weeks he had been hiding in his room, he told the officer.

Ryan was first arrested last August in Pittsburgh, Pa., on a charge of using the mails to defraud Kansas City men, but was released under bond to appear here for trial in February. When he did not appear his bond was forfeited and it was said he had fled to Canada. He had fled, but he could not resist the impulse to return here, he said.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Caused by Overstudy or
Overwork of Any Kind,
Mental or Physical.

The First Thing to Do Is to Stop
the Cause of the Trouble
Then Nourish the Nerves
Through the Blood.

The sufferer from nervous trouble generally knows what caused it, overstudy, physical or mental overwork, irregular living, worry, or whatever it may be. The first thing to do in seeking a cure is to stop the cause, if possible. Then the nerves must be given special nourishment and the blood must be kept pure and rich. This is the mission of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and this is the way the pills have been used with such great success in nervous trouble that did not yield to ordinary methods of treatment.

These pills give health and strength to the nervous and exhausted as is shown by the experience of Mr. W. E. Dixon, of R. F. D. No. 3, LeRoy, Kansas, who says:

"While I was attending the University Medical college of Kansas City, about six years ago, I was in a weak, nervous and run-down condition. I was told that I was studying too hard and needed a good tonic and complete rest. I took the advice and went to my home. I was not confined to my bed but was unable to do anything.

"My illness started with a severe nervousness, followed by a prickly sensation in my legs and arms. This continued until the muscles of the left side of my face were affected. They were stiff and rigid and seemed to be paralyzed. There was no feeling in that side of my face. My blood was thin and impoverished and I kept losing strength.

"After I had been at my home for some time, I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and was quickly benefited. The numbness seemed to leave and I commenced to get stronger. I took several boxes of the pills and was completely cured."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent to any address, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Every nervous sufferer should have a copy of our booklet "Nervous Disorders, a Method of Home Treatment."

CONTEST GINGER.

It's time for the round-up of all your promises, and in your rounds gather everything in sight. What reason have you for thinking that you can't do as well as others?

Also what reason have you for thinking that others are resting while you are working? Do your best, and then no one will do better.

Make a mighty effort to win at least one Bonus on the subscriptions brought in tomorrow. Every new yearly after that will count you 8000 votes. If you are not securing a subscription from every one on whom you call, neither are the other contestants. Luck seems to be pretty much the same for all, it's the sincere effort that makes the difference.

It is almost as doubtful today who will be the winners as it was the day the Contest opened. This means there is a fine opportunity for you.

MAKE UP YOUR MIND.

Make up your mind to be FIRST. If you find that is impossible then make a jump for SECOND. It's good standing all down the line until the prizes give out, and we hear that it is very, very chilly outside the prize limits. Better run no risk of being an outsider.

THE APPEAL TO REASON.

When you ask a friend to subscribe to THE TRIBUNE in your favor you are no more than making an appeal to reason. Every one likes to benefit themselves and no one objects to benefiting a friend. They can do both of these things by subscribing in your favor. You get the votes and the prize, but they get the best and brightest of afternoon papers. It's pretty nearly a square deal. Show your friends how they can oblige you and at the same time lay up a store of pleasure and profit for themselves during the coming year.

NOT FAR OFF.

When you think of it March 22d is not far off. So far you have done well and you are beginning perhaps to feel just a little bit tired. But what of it? Is it any time to stop with the prizes fairly in sight?

It would be a poor runner indeed who would think of resting with the goal but a few yards distant. Think of it! In a little more than two weeks you may own your own automobile. It seems as if you need never be tired again after that.

It's so restful leaning back against those cushions. So exhilarating sitting with your hand on the wheel. It feels particularly worth while when you pass the man or woman of whom you stood in terror during the Contest, but who at the crucial moment (just when you yourself were wavering) grew weary of well-doing.

Fortunately you made up your mind to keep right on and do your LEVEL BEST. How much that man or woman who didn't STICK TO IT envies you now!

REMEMBER THE EXTENSIONS.

Do not forget that the highest rate you can gain on individual subscriptions is by getting an EXTENSION of a subscription given you during the BIG VOTE offer. As we have explained you will get the full benefit of the Big Vote on the extension of any subscription of which the first term was given you during the Big Vote period.

Try hard to induce all who gave you a subscription then to extend it now to a longer term. Be sure when you bring it in to us to mark the slip clearly EXTENSION. In this way there will be no chance of a mistake being made in the number of votes issued to you. If the first term of the subscription were given to another candidate it would be well to let us know their name so that we would have no doubt as to the subscriber being old or new.

You recall what we printed at first as to the difference between OLD and NEW subscribers. A NEW subscriber is one who was not taking the paper at the time the Contest started, ONCE a NEW subscriber ALWAYS a NEW subscriber during the life of the Contest. If the subscriber were NEW when he first subscribed on the Contest he will still be NEW when he EXTENDS that subscription in your favor.

GO AFTER EXTENSIONS. DON'T FAIL TO WIN YOUR BONUS.

BLAMES FRIENDS FOR UNHAPPINESS

Mrs. Henry Hutt Declares Artists Drew Spouse From Straight Path.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The conflict of influences in the life of Henry Hutt, artist and illustrator, has been bared in the record of his marital troubles filed in the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Edna Garfield Della Torre Hutt, once praised by her husband as "more beautiful than Venus," charges that while she struggled as the good angel of her husband's inspiration and artistic creation to guard him from downward steps, the baleful influences of certain acquaintances of his counteracted her efforts.

Finally she gave up in despair, she says, when her persuasive power was no longer heeded.

The names of several of New York's best known artists are mentioned by Mrs. Hutt in connection with her domestic unhappiness.

She blames R. Cory Kilvert, the artist, and George Clark, painter, for adding notes of discord to the absence of harmony in her home.

The artist, the illustrator, is put down in her affidavits as one who "caused" with her husband, and Penrhyn Stirling, figure in one scene of matrimonial drama.

GIVES THEIR STORY IN DETAIL.

The fact that Mrs. Hutt has brought an action for separation was announced several weeks ago. It was stated then that she charged her husband with abandoning her, but the reasons for their disagreement were not disclosed until today, when her complaint was filed in an application for $500 alimony. She was granted $100 a month.

Mrs. Hutt accuses her husband of indulging too freely in intoxicants. She gave in detail the story of their married life since January, 1903, and then cited instances of Hutt's alleged cruelty.

The first three years of their married life, Mrs. Hutt admits, were colored with such happiness that she has nothing to complain of regarding them.

It was not until the summer of 1906 that the wife claims to have noticed that her husband indulged in intoxicants gave way to an intemperate use of liquor. They were spending the summer at Narragansett with their son, Richard.

Henry Hutt, she alleges, when her husband went away with their son, Richard, was sent to New York by a physician and afterwards visited Muldoon's sanitarium.

FATALLY INJURED.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 3. — Miss May Burns of this city and F. H. Veltou of Cheshire, Connecticut, were fatally injured shortly before midnight when their motor car was run into by a trolley car.

Miss Kate Roche, another occupant of the cab, and Charles Saxton, the chauffeur, were seriously hurt.

RAILROADS WILL ACCEPT VERDICT

Bow to Interstate Commerce
Commission Anent Freight
Rate Advance.

CHICAGO, March 3. — The railroads running west of Chicago decided definitely yesterday to bow to the will of the Interstate Commerce Commission and to accept without an attempt to appeal, its decision denying them a general advance in freight rates.

All thought of a possible attempt to contest the case further by seeking a review by the new commerce court was laid aside at a meeting of the executive and freight traffic officers of the roads.

At a continuation of the previous day's conference, it was decided to accept the decision as final, and to file cancellations of the tariffs containing the proposed advances with the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington on Monday.

This will be four days in advance of the date set by the commission in requesting the withdrawal of the tariffs by March 10 as an alternative to a formal order prescribing the present rates for two years.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The recent rate decisions of the I. C. C., will be the subject of a conference here on Monday between the eastern railroad presidents and the members of the commission. President Wm. Brown of New York Central arranged by telephone with Commissioner Lane for the meeting.

BOMB HURLED AT CALCUTTA OFFICIAL

CALCUTTA, March 3.—A bomb, evidently intended to end the activity of Superintendent Denham of the criminal department of the Calcutta police, was thrown at his motor car yesterday. It failed to explode, and the thrower, a native youth, was arrested. Denham was not in the car, which was occupied by a public works official.

SUES FOR DAMAGE.

MARTINEZ, March 3.—Suit has been filed in the Superior Court by Frank Bronner against Mrs. R. C. Cary and Manuel Antonio Azecedo for $10,000 damages, charging the defendants with false imprisonment. Bronner was jailed for a week on the charge of Mrs. Cary, who accused him of stealing her cow. He was released a week later and the charge against him was dismissed.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT DENIES SEEKING PEACE

WASHINGTON, March 3.—To make official the denials already made that there have been negotiations between the Mexican government and the rebels looking to the establishment of peace, the Mexican embassy here yesterday made public a telegram just received from Enrique Creel, the Mexican minister of foreign affairs. The minister makes the most complete and unqualified denial of the report.

THIEVES RETURN LOOT TAKEN FROM PASTOR

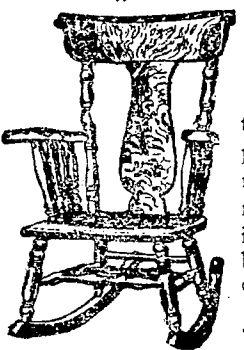

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Thieves who took valuable jewelry and furs from the residence of the Rev. Earle Willey, pastor of the Vermont avenue Christian church, last Sunday night, repented of their act after reading in the papers that they had robbed a minister, and yesterday left the plunder in a neat parcel on the rear porch of the house from which they had taken it. The robbery occurred while Dr. Willey was preaching his evening sermon.

CURTISS DUCKED IN QUICK DESCENT

Famous Hydroplane Springs a Leak and Sinks in San Diego Bay.

SAN DIEGO, March 3. —Employees of Glenn Curtiss today are busy repairing the damage done to the famous hydroplane that he has used in his land and water experiments here. The hydroplane, with Curtiss as pilot and C. C. Whitmer as a passenger and riding on the float beneath the lowest of the three planes, sprung a leak when it was brought to the surface of the bay late yesterday afternoon and sank so quickly that both men received a thorough ducking. The propeller blade was smashed. The machine came down at a steep angle and struck the water with sufficient force to shove the bottom of the pontoon toward the front. The float filled rapidly and the machine settled in about six feet of water. Aside from the wetting, a wrecked propeller and a damaged pontoon are the only results of the first accident to Curtiss in this city.

Motor boats helped haul the machine to the beach.

REALLY THIS IS MOST STARTLING

Said Stanford Is Degrading Into "Seminary Senseless Spinsters."

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 3. —Stanford is degenerating into a "seminary for senseless spinsters," according to E. J. O'Donnell, a junior student in the department of law. The student affairs committee disagreed with him to such an extent that they suspended him from the university yesterday afternoon after the article containing the above statement had appeared in the college daily.

The cause of O'Donnell's diatribe against the policy of those in command was a statement issued by the dean of the women, Mrs. Evelyn Allan, to the women sophomores who were about to attend the sophomore "jolly-up" held in the gymnasium. She advised them that who attended the celebration should return to the campus in the special car provided for them, and in no other way.

The regulations were read at the sophomore inauguration on the afternoon of February 17, and a recommendation added that the men should not wear corduroy trousers and blue shirts, as had been the custom in past affairs. H. C. Boyd, who introduced the resolution regarding the corduroy trousers, justified himself by the statement that he acted in conformance with the desires of the dean of the women.

MEN ENTER PROTEST.

The recommendation was met with a storm of protest from the men students. The objectors compiled themselves to various remarks with the exception of O'Donnell. He wrote the communication which was published in the Daily Palo Alto. Although directed at numerous practices in the administration of student affairs the heart of the criticism was borne by Mrs. Allan.

After several days O'Donnell received notice to appear before Prof. A. B. Clark, chairman of the student affairs committee. A demand was made that he should apologize publicly for his remarks. Mrs. Allan wrote to the Daily Palo Alto disclaiming the recommendation in regard to the men's clothes, and O'Donnell followed this with a statement saying that his communication was written under a misrepresentation of fact.

This was not deemed sufficient by the student affairs committee. O'Donnell refused to make a more explicit apology, and in consequence was notified yesterday afternoon of his suspension for the remainder of the semester.

O'Donnell is one of the most prominent students in the junior class. He is the manager of the big junior annual and a member of the Eucina Club.

GIST OF COMMUNICATION.

The communication which roused the ire of the authorities was in part as follows:

"For years gone by Stanford men respected Stanford women and in return Stanford women placed no small degree of confidence in the men folk. They made up a sort of 'happy valley' community and Doctor Gardner's pate was covered with a fine growth of luxuriant hair. He loved his children (spiritually speaking) and never worried much about their behavior. Into the campus he drove the bridge into the stock farm. In fact, things were about as near to ideal as in Pacific Grove today."

"But! Happily over a few years and we find ourselves at Stanford after the 'Social Renaissance'."

"At the rate we have been going up this 'social scale' how long will it be before the blooded, blooded, blooded degenerates into a mollycoddle manufactory and a seminary for senseless spinsters?"

AVIATION MEET MAY BE HELD AT ELMHURST

A large party of representative men was present at the weekly luncheon of the Tri-City Rotary Club yesterday afternoon at the Forum Cafe. The first speaker of the occasion was Jack Peirce, who spoke on the new motorhome at Elmhurst. He said in part:

"Some time ago I was talking with Glen Curtiss, who used to ride racing motorcycles before he took up flying, and he assured me that arrangements could be made to pull off some of the greatest aviation meets in the country at Elmhurst. Next May I expect to make arrangements for such a meet."

K. W. Martin, who is actively engaged in organizing a new automobile club, outlined the plans and aims of the promoters.

E. J. Herman, one of the promoters of the Oakland & Antioch railroad, was also a speaker, and said in part: "Since 1900 there has been a revolution in the development of Oakland and the East Bay section and an outgrowth of that is the building of the Oakland & Antioch road. It is amazing to see the development on all sides in the last few years."

Walter B. Fawcett said that the coming of the road into Oakland would open a big territory to the business men of the city. "In eight months, I think," he said, "we will be running cars into Oakland."

The luncheon closed with a few words from two political aspirants, John J. Nagle, running for commissioner of the Board of Supervisors, and G. Angell, running for commissionership No. 4.

McGUIRE ATTACKED FROM DARK CORNER

WASHINGTON, March 3. —From some unexplained quarter Assemblyman McGuire has been clawed into tatters. It would appear to be the work of rivals. Secretary Nagle is understood to have secured a full and complete disclosure of the assault to have announced: "Why, if all this is true, McGuire is unfit for immigration commissioner."

To sustain him and vindicate him McGuire has the endorsements of Senators John P. Jones, running for commissioner of the Board of Supervisors, and G. Angell, running for commissionership No. 4.

WANT INDEPENDENCE.

WASHINGTON, March 3. —Manuel L. Quezon, resident commissioner of the Philippines in Washington, presented to the House today a cablegram from the Philippine assembly petitioning Congress to recognize immediately the independence of the islands.

The proposition of an Alameda County day during the convention when the delegates will be the guests of the order on this side of the bay and will be shown the various points of interest throughout Alameda county, was also discussed. It was decided to seek the co-operation of the chamber of commerce, the Merchants' Exchange and the various commercial bodies in the entertainment of guests.

ORPHEUM TO SHOW DAYLIGHT PICTURES

The Oakland Orpheum is to show next Sunday how beautiful motion pictures can be shown to perfection while the entire house is brilliantly lighted, just as brilliant as though perfect daylight streamed in through doors and windows. The Orpheum has secured exclusive use of the invention which has revolutionized the motion picture game and theater goes next Sunday will be able to see this invention in operation.

Mr. E. Rothapfel, the inventor, has just finished installing the machinery and making all the arrangements for the production of these "daylight motion pictures" at the Oakland Orpheum next Sunday. His work is flawless, for it has stood the test.

BLOOD DISEASES CONTAGIOUS TROUBLES

Contagious Blood Poison more thoroughly permeates the system than any other disease. Its infectious virus contaminates every corpuscle and tissue of the circulation, and for this reason its symptoms are of a varied nature. When it enters the blood it is but a short time until the mouth and throat begin to ulcerate, the skin becomes spotted, rashes and eruptions appear on the body, sores and ulcers break out, the hair falls, and frequently nails on hands and feet thicken and come off. Mineral medicines which simply shut the poison up in the system should be avoided, for when such treatment is left off the old disease will break out again, often worse than before. S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison permanently, and it does so because it thoroughly purifies the blood.

S. S. S. goes into the circulation, and drives out the last trace of the destructive germs, adds richness and vigor to the circulation and allows it to nourish the diseased portions of the body back to health. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, being made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, without a particle of mineral, and its vegetable ingredients always hasten the cure by toning up the stomach and digestive members. Home Treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.
